Marcia,

To a really nice senior. I sure did have fun at that birthday party. I learned that you have to watch out for lemons. Next time I'll give you the biggest piece of cake. Be good.
 Lots of Luck.

Love
 Nellie

P.S. See ya at the
 "Slumber Party" (?)

Marcia,

I can't come to the slumber party cause I'd cause quite a "ruckus" but you're still a neat thing to mess around with. Did you know snow turns brown after 8 days?

Respectfully
 Submitted,

We wish to dedicate the 1973 Crusader to a man with a warm heart and a big voice, to a man who helps to bring out our acting abilities in Drama Class for future use in the Senior Play, to a man who understands his students and lets them express their own opinions no matter how different they may be, to a man with whom we can be ourselves, to you, Mr. Cole, with Love.

We live in joy . . .

-Acts 17:28-

PEOPLE

In Him we live and move and have our being . . . in Him we studied our lessons and worked out our problems. In Him we ran down the halls and laughed at each other and shouted to our friends. In Him we hoped for great things and cried at our disappointments. Together we lived as a body, yet we all lived as individuals—each man with his God.

Seniors Rule

It is usually said that "Seniors Rule." It was never more true than this year at Valley. The Class of '73 overpowered the underclassmen in many ways and at many times. They won the VW Pileup on "Nifty Fifties Day" and won overall in the "Wacky Olympics." Their acting abilities shone through during the production of the class play "The Miser." Their spirit was heard at every pep rally. Valley watches the Class of 1973 leave with mixed emotions. One thing is sure, however, the seniors will not soon be forgotten.

"74 has more"

It is hard to classify a group of over 100 persons under a specific title, but it has been done. This title is simply "The Class of 74", whose single purpose is to show that "74 has more". To reach this goal, the junior class had the task of running the canteen in order to earn money for the anticipated Junior-Senior Banquet. In this year's banquet it was shown that the Class of 1974 does have more.

They've only just begun

The Freshman Class though weak in voice and small in stature, showed itself to be quite promising. Their men, who won the league title in freshmen basketball made up for their size with their never-ending flirting. Most of the girls, however, specialized in more "academic" pursuits, though some proved their talents in athletics by having a first place team in volleyball. These underclassmen are urged to keep up their image as true Crusaders.

Bus Drivers and Janitors

Washing walls, scrubbing chalk boards, sweeping floors, and cleaning desks are all jobs of the janitors. The bus drivers have the responsibility of transporting a bus load of children to and from school each day. These people get all the dirty work.

ACTIVITIES

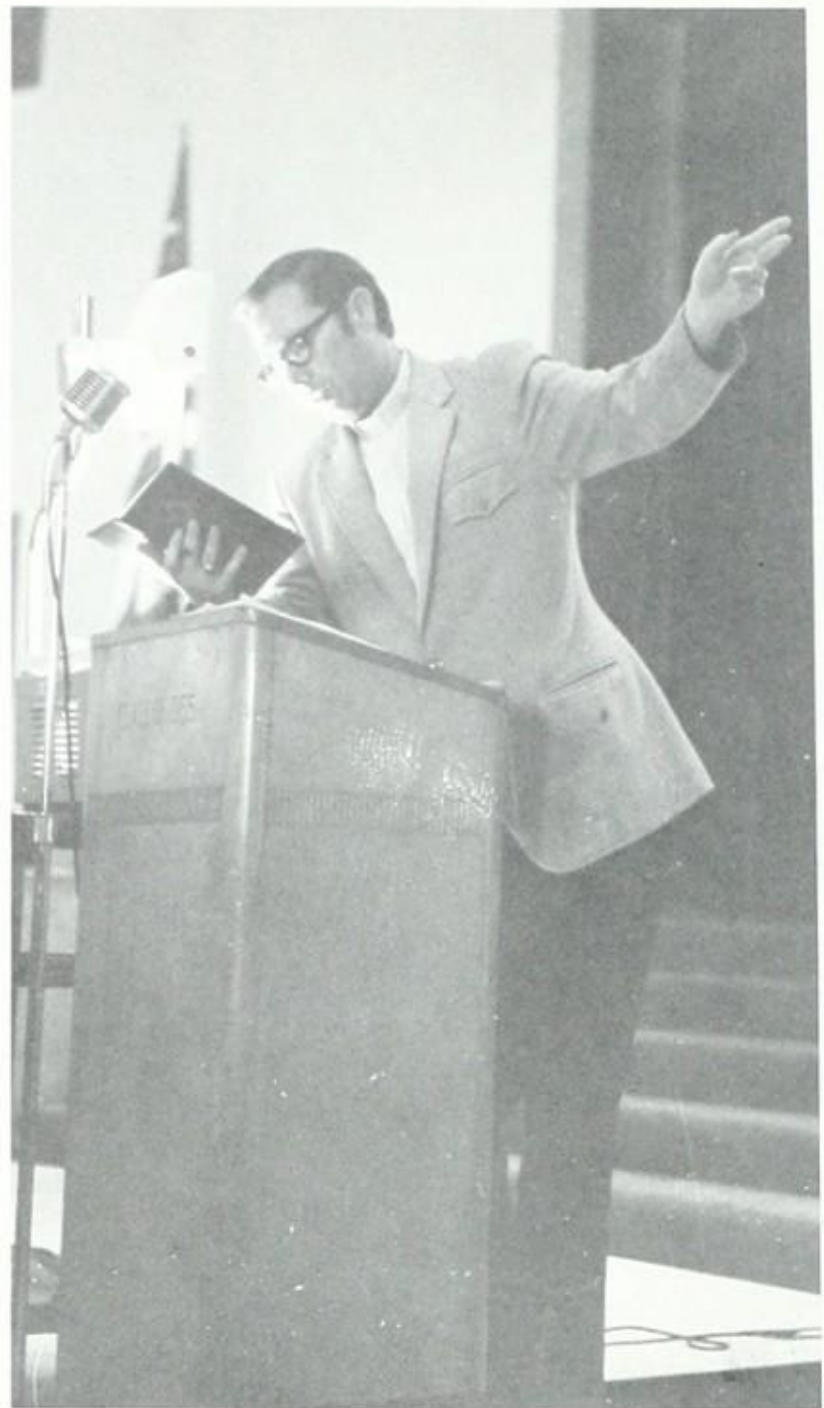

The exuberance of Homecoming, the excited confusion of Harvest Festival, or the triumphant shouts of a Wacky Olympics . . . all point to one thing . . . Activities. And whether there shines the glamour of a banquet, the moving power of a Spring Concert, or the muted pride in Graduation, one desire remains clear . . . to live and move in Him.

Thanks be to God

Thanksgiving is a day set aside to give thanks to our Lord, our Maker, but we tend to give thanks only for the things that work out our way. As was pointed out by our speaker, the Rev. den Dulk, we must also give thanks for the things that do not turn out the way we wanted them to; we should give thanks for all things. Jane Brinkman, a student from Ontario Christian High School, was a good example of this. She was paralyzed from the neck down in an accident, yet she still praises God and knows He had a purpose in it. We collected our offering this year for Jane so she could have a week of therapy at Rancho Los Alamitos Hospital, where her love and thanks for the Lord continue to grow.

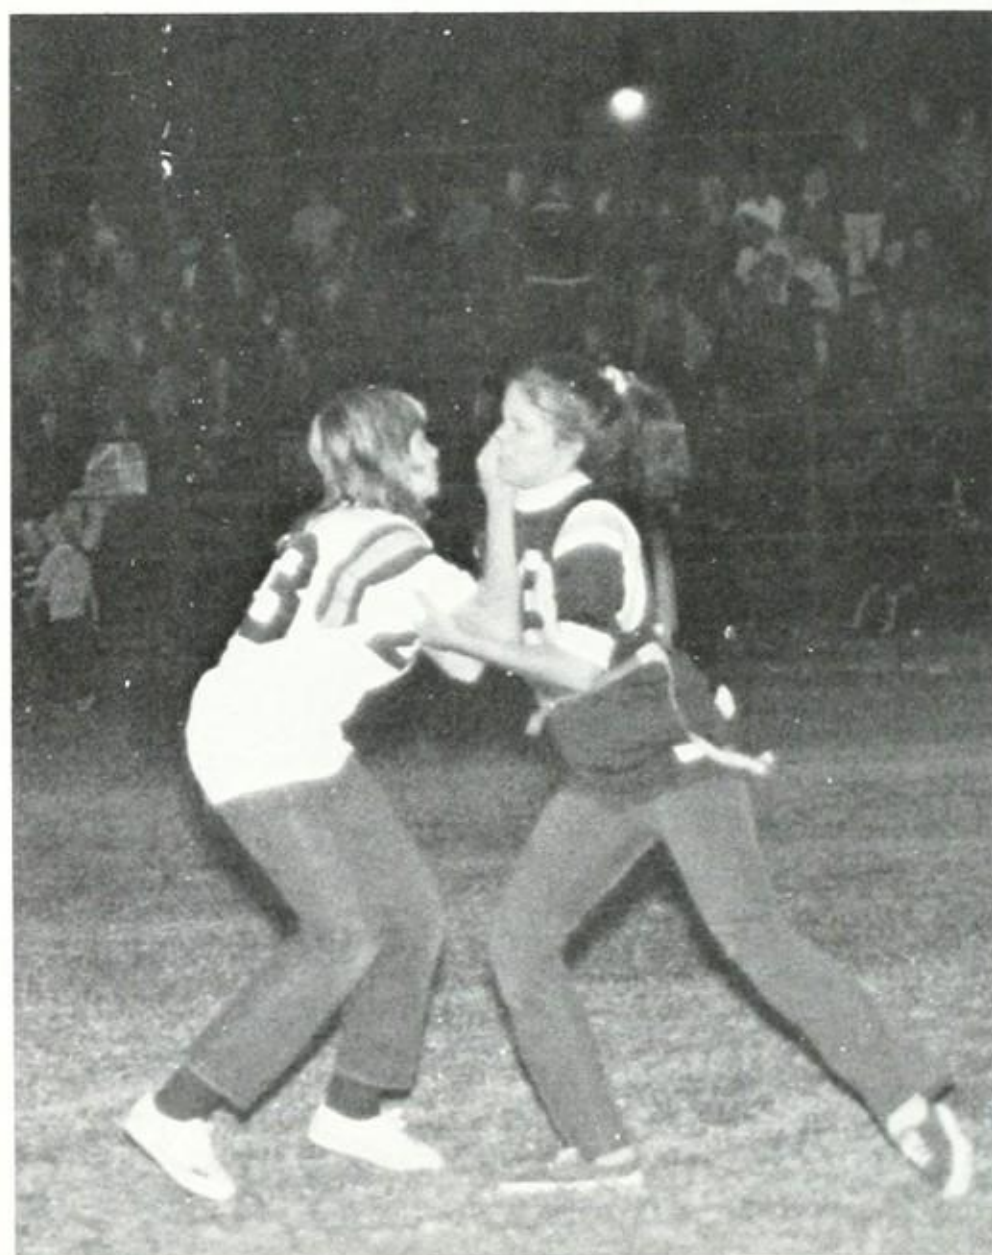

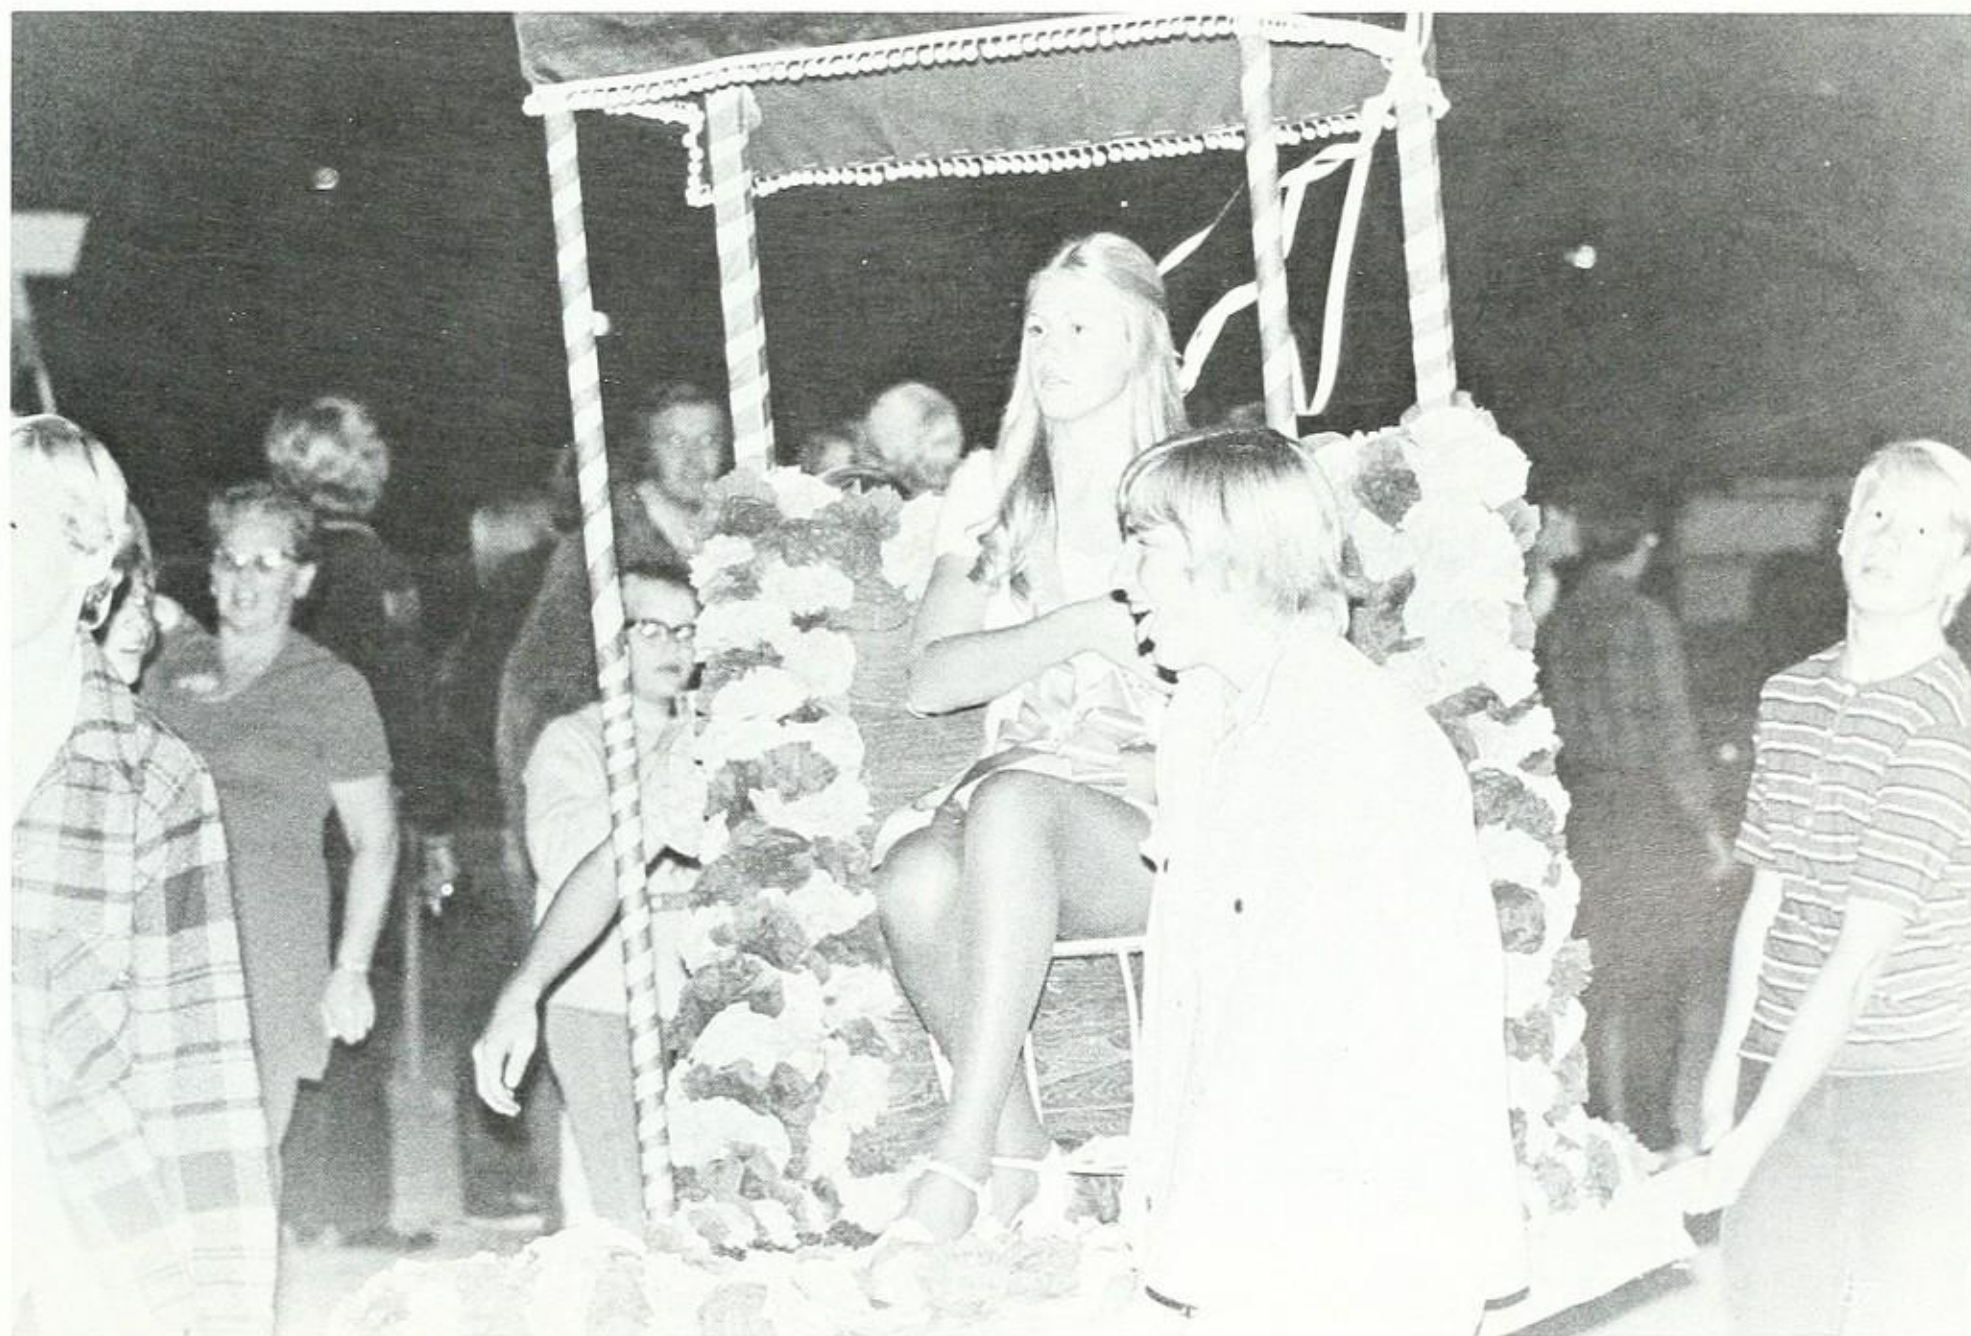

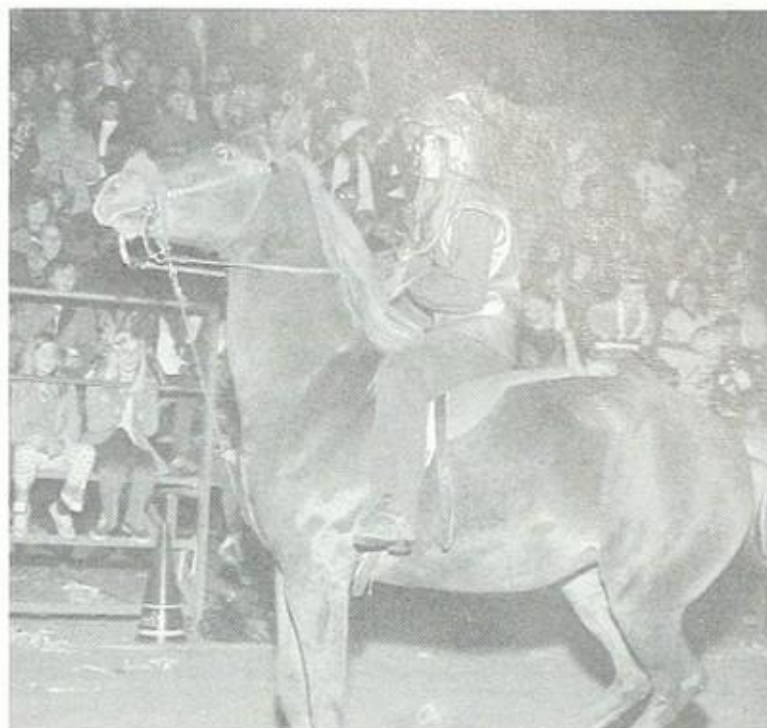

How to cook-up an exciting Harvest Festival.
Begin with 3000 Dutchmen
Add 400 dozen ollie bollen
Blend with a nervous girl perched above a frightening dunking tank
Then
Stir in a few gold fish and some works of art.
Fold in maroon and gold V.C. boothes with lots of V.C. sweatshirts
Mix with a ring toss, and a softball toss
Add a pinch of cotton candy, hamburgers and hotdogs
Combine all this with the excitement of your first junior high date
Top it off with a super 42-0 football victory over Bell Jeff and what have you got?
Why you've got a harvest festival you'll never forget.

Spirit Week

The excitement began with the annual contest, senior girls against the freshman and sophomore girls. The "Powder Puff" football game ended in a tie, 6-6. After the game, the freshman, sophomore, and junior princesses were chosen, along with the two candidates for queen. Curious minds and hearts would be satisfied Friday, Homecoming night, when the queen would finally be announced.

... Over progress of transportation

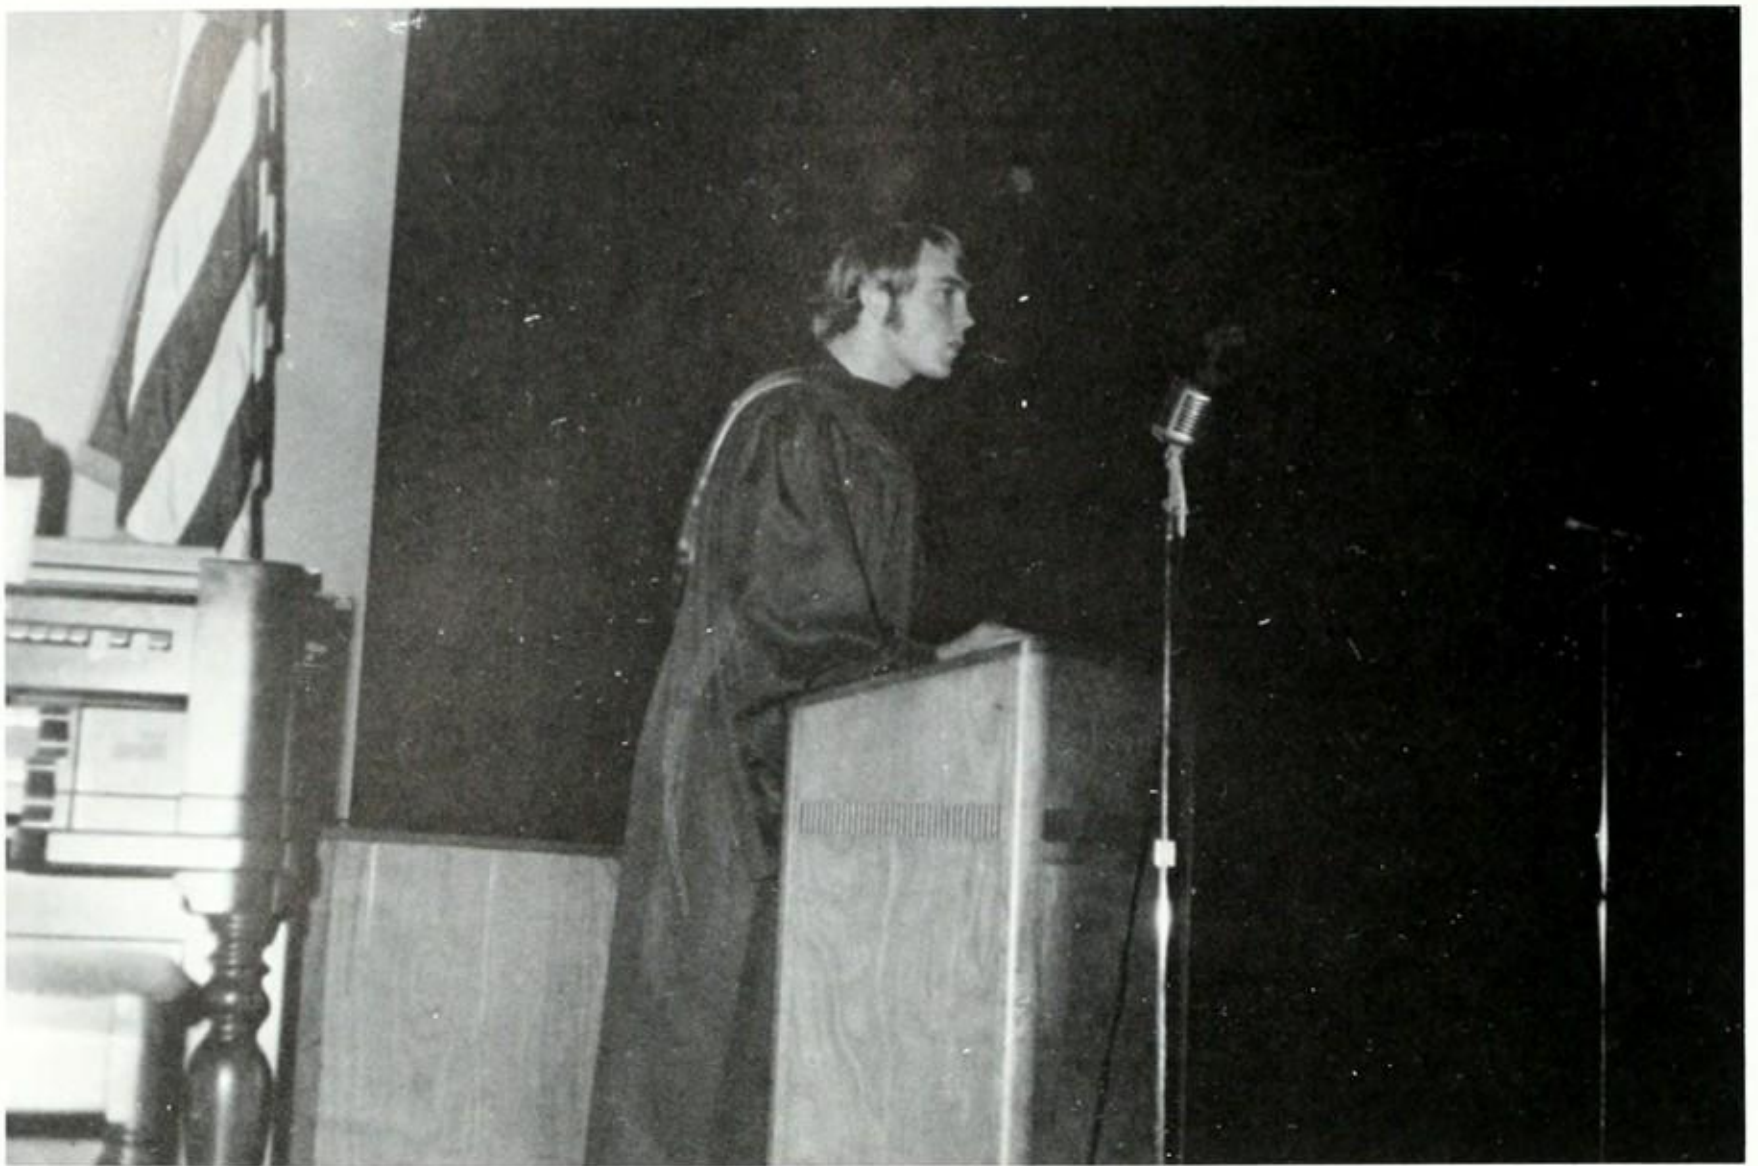

Homecoming began on that chilled Friday night with the cheerleaders swarming by on their colorfully decorated, but amazingly slow minibikes. The band and drill team, performing admirably, stood by at attention as the cheerleaders rolled to a trackside stop and the royal procession of princesses and candidates for queen began. Accompanied by last year's Homecoming Queen, Lorrie Groot, the theme, "The Progress of Transportation" was carried out, fittingly, by a hand-carried litter and brought to a rumbling stop by a bright red Corvette. M.C. Marlin De Jong, after receiving the envelope from the mascot Crusader, then made the announcement most tensely waited for-Susan Vander Kooi was Homecoming Queen for 1972-1973. Amidst the flashes of the cameras and the tears of joy, Lorrie coronated her with the crown of silver.

And with a National Anthem sung by Jim Bolden that for a minute didn't seem like it was going to end, the most crucial game of the season kicked off.

Of old it was usually customary for the Christians to be thrown to the Lions, but the tide turned as the first drops of rain began to fall. Spirit undampened, the crowd and team stuck with it until the last second ticked away revealing the Lutheran Lions being tamed by the Crusaders, 33-20. And even as the rain continued to pour down, the Alma Mater struck home with the enthusiasm that made that night what it was, unforgettable.

Christmas

Christmas was evident at Valley. Practicing for the Christmas Concert, the Businessmen's Association selling Christmas trees, singing carols, looking forward to vacation and the new year, and the special Christmas chapel were signs that the season of Christmas was near.

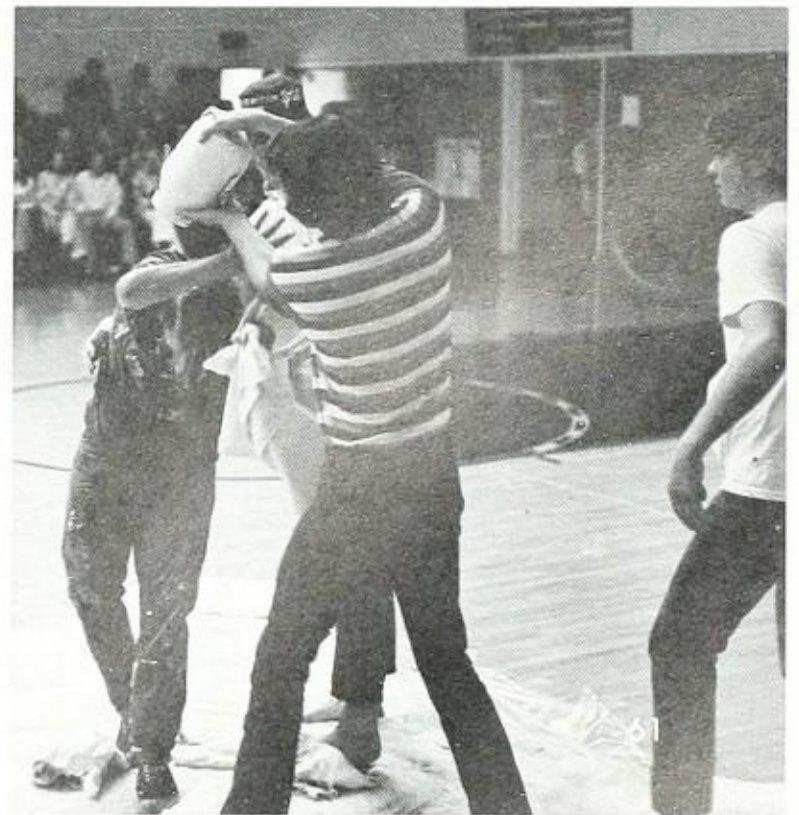

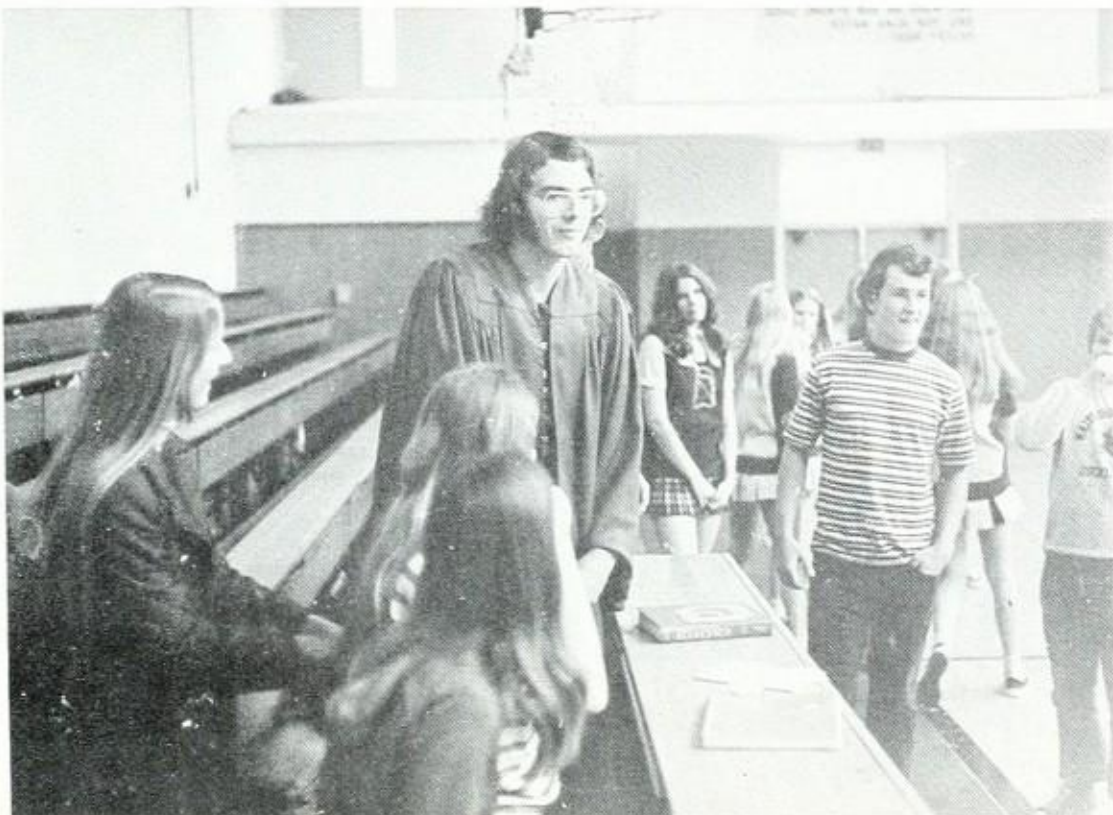

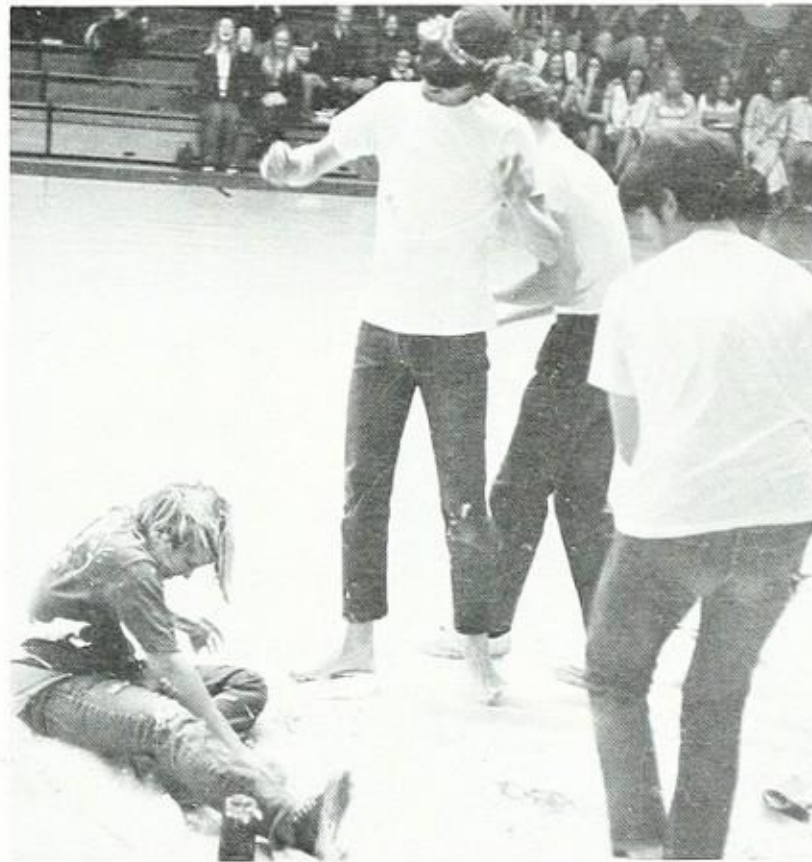

Twirp Week

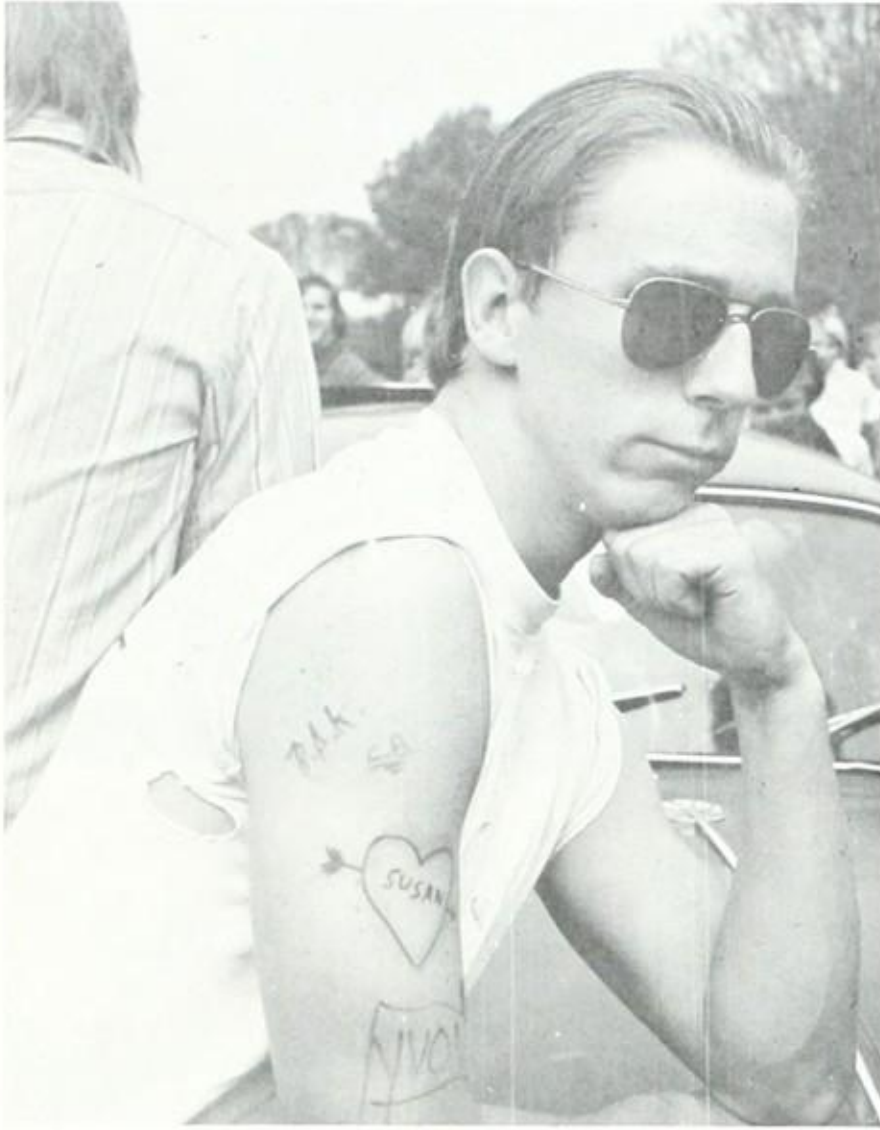

If you would have walked down the halls of V.C.H.S. during the week of January 26 through February 2 you would probably have noticed some rather peculiar things going on: a group of guys being approached by a group of girls, and suddenly there being no group of guys, or a girl with shakey knees and a trembling voice asking her dream man for that lucky date, or a red faced freshman being asked for the pep rally by an eager sophomore. This was Twirp Week.

Twirp Week ended with a grand finale in the annual meeting of the Kangaroo Court. The violators of Twirp Week rules were punished accordingly, with the exception of Ernie Brink who ran out of the gym. Most would say Twirp Week was just another week at Valley, but for some it was the start of something great.

Nifty-Fifties Day

Nostalgia ruled in the hearts of the students and faculty the day of March 2, as "Nifty Fifties Day" arrived. The day was full of laughs, long skirts, bobby socks, baggy pants, ponytails, bow ties, and more laughs. The highlight of the day was when Jeannie Spannenburg and Frank Rollema were given a prize for best dressed girl and guy. The Senior class was the winner of the VW pile up as they managed to stuff 22 guys into the car. This was a day full of fun as V.C.H.S. looked back to the days of the "Nifty Fifties".

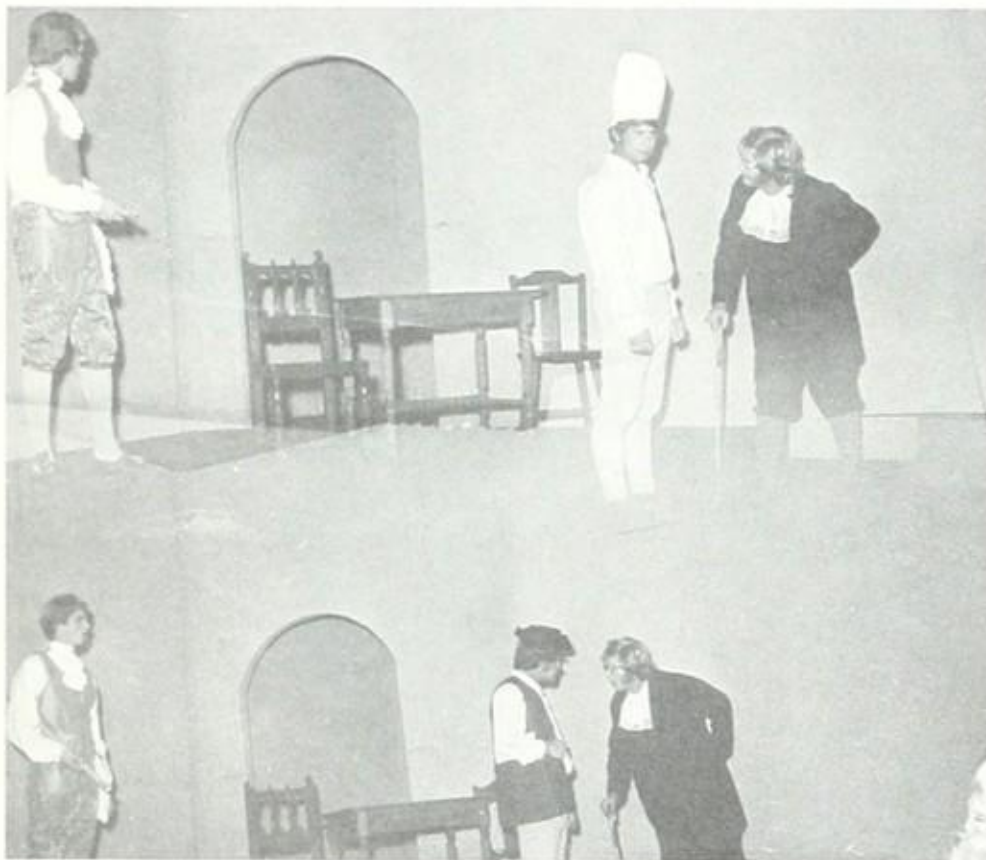

The Miser

THE MISER, a three-act comedy by Moliere, was presented by the class of 1973. It was a combination of good humor, excellent acting and directing, and beautiful costumes, to make an enjoyable night for all. The play centered around a niggardly old man and the people in his life who were ruled and influenced by him.

The second act was especially entertaining and well-done, for it featured Dan Epp playing the hilarious double role of cook and coachman, while the miser, played by Harold Klein, left the audience in an uproar by jumping off the stage and running wildly through the crowd, shouting for the one who stole his money.

Though no one could quite believe it, the end of the play allowed everyone to live happily ever after.

Speech and Music Festival

After a long ride through sunshine and snow, the Valley bus made it to Ripon for the Speech and Music Festival. Valley was very successful again this year in both the speech and the music sections. The long trip was well worth it, as Valley came home with many awards.

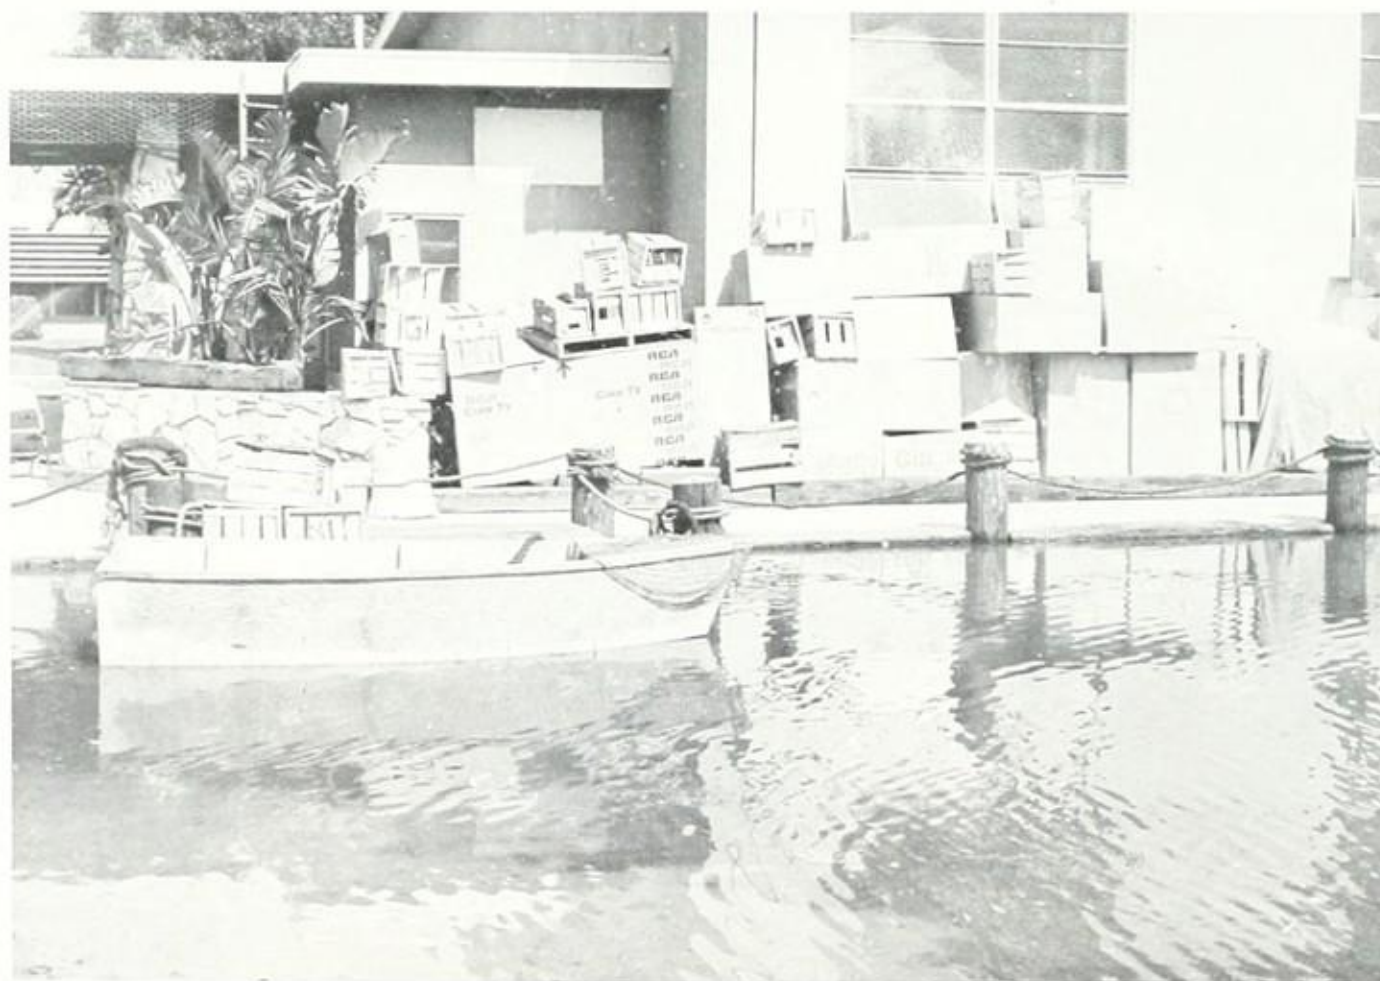

SAS Banquet

The SAS Banquet is an annual banquet funded by the Scholastic Art Sponsors. It is held to honor those students who have achieved a "B" average or have received an award. A lot of hard work and planning is put into the banquet and decorations. Congratulations go to the students and the sponsors for a fine evening.

The Undersea World of King Neptune

The Junior-Senior Banquet took a plunge into the deep sea and came upon "Neptune's Kingdom." The beach and dock outside provided a romantic setting for all the interested couples. The Pirates of the sophomore class did an excellent job of serving the upperclassmen. Tim Rinker and Deanne Zonneveld, Master and Mistress of Ceremonies, led the program for the evening. "The Rising Son," a Christian rock group, entertained with a variety of jokes and songs. Jim Walker and his "Rubber Ducky" were enjoyed by all. Pete Goedhart and Bev Koning were crowned King and Queen Neptune during the Funky Fish Awards Ceremony. The evening was a great success and a very memorable occasion.

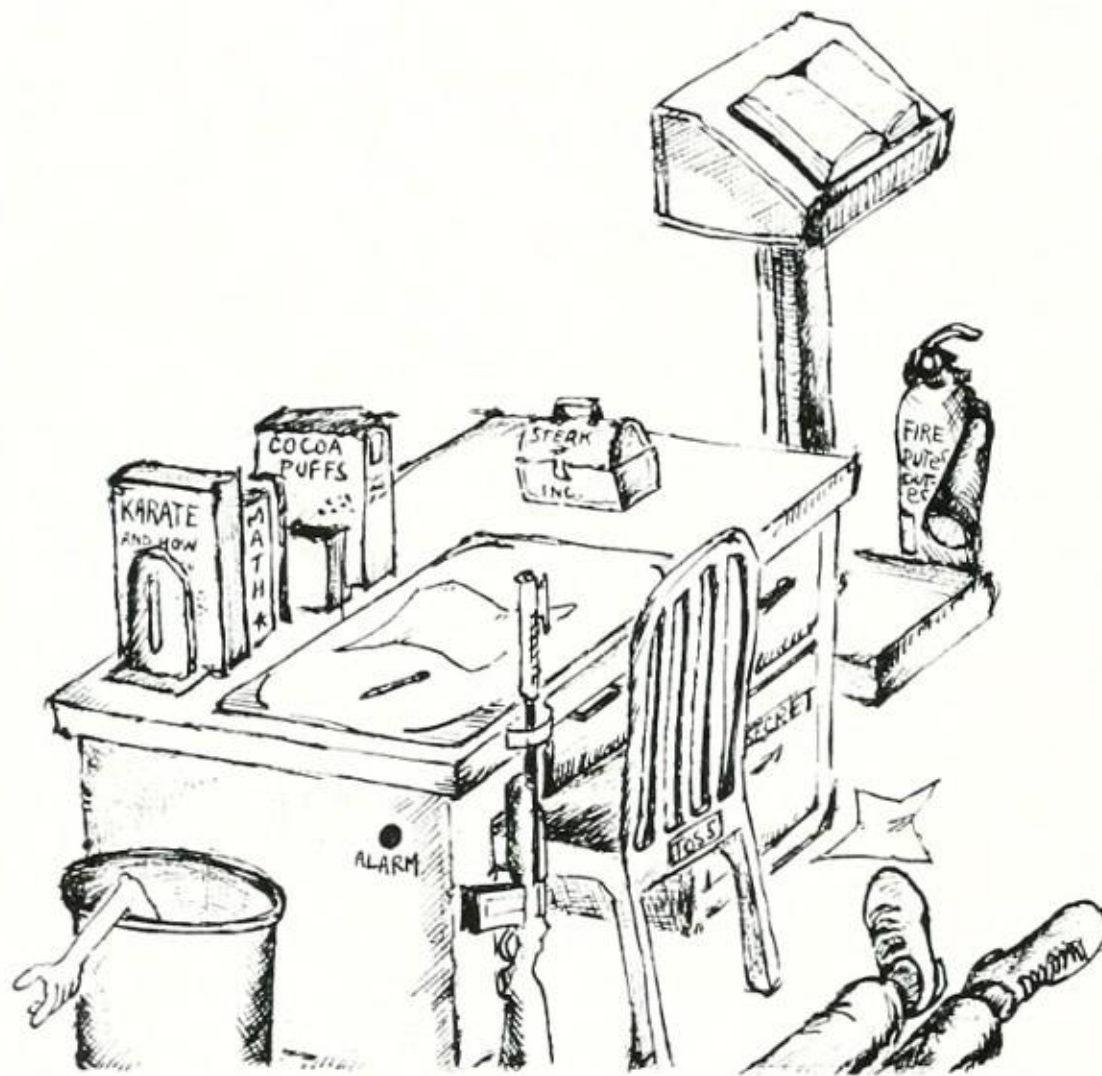

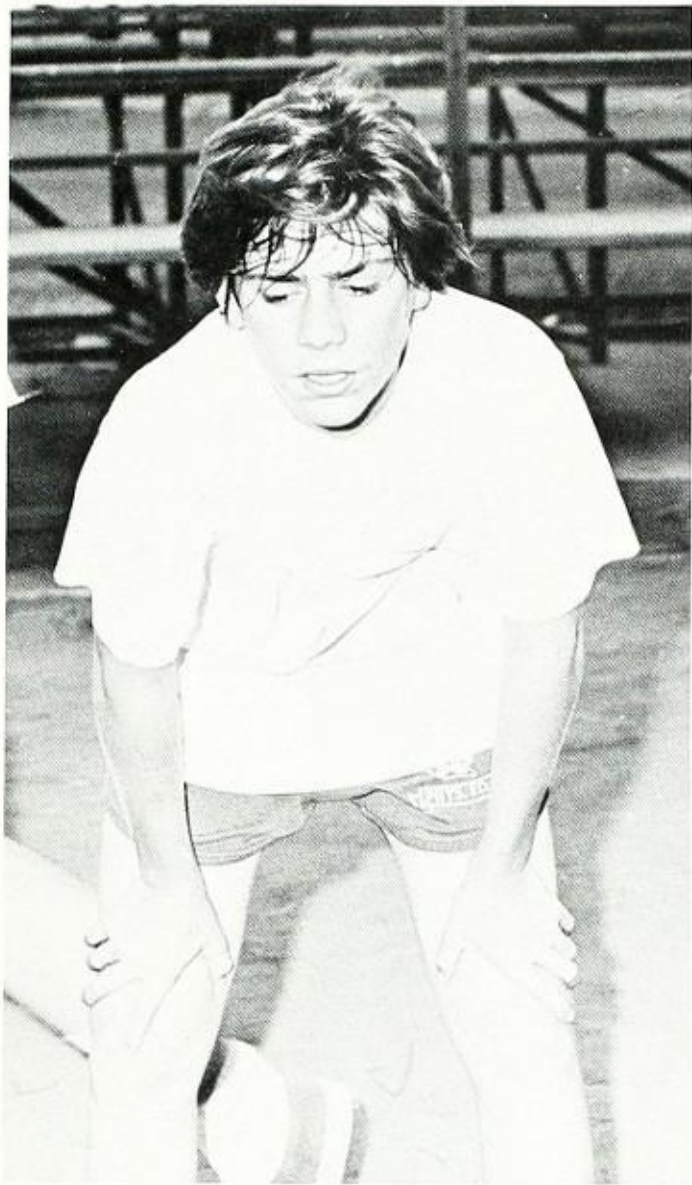

Student Government Day

A total lack of interest, that's the only way to describe it, for Student Government Day almost did not exist this year. However, in a few rooms, the teacher temporarily bowed to the student.

In all, the day proved like any other and passed without too much concern.

Runathon

On those Thursday and Friday nights in May, the Crusader track teemed with activity as hoards of kids swarmed around the oval in a gallant, "breath-taking" effort to raise money for the school.

Those with long-distanced determination crawled across the finish line with dollar signs in their eyes. Those with short-distanced determination tripped across the line screaming for oxygen. But whether 1 or 50 laps, the nights were a success.

Spring Concert

All the choirs and the Crusader band performed at the annual Spring Concert. The girls of each choir were combined in one mass choir and sang "Scarborough Fair." The band played and the flag girls performed for their last time. Once again, it was a great success and all did their very best.

Senior Trip

Leaving the Long Beach Airport at the unearthly hour of 6:30, the Senior class was finally on their way. They planned to visit Sacramento and San Francisco throughout the day. After arriving in San Francisco Airport at 7:45, they loaded onto two buses that would take them to the California capitol. While visiting the Capitol, they toured the Capitol Building and listened to our Assemblyman and Senator speak about our state government. While in Sacramento, a few girls even "happened to find" Governor Reagan's office and had a personal tour of the office by his secretary. After eating lunch, they headed back to San Francisco on the buses. Once in San Francisco they were on their own. They could visit the Cannery, Ghirardelli Square, and China Town. At 9:00 they were back on the way to the airport. At 11:00 that night, they were back in Long Beach Airport safe and sound and very tired.

SACRAMENTO...

Senior Mother's Tea

On a beautiful Thursday afternoon, the seniors and their mothers came to the Chapel at Valley. The event--the annual Senior-Mother's Tea sponsored by the sophomore class. Each mother received a lovely corsage and enjoyed an afternoon chatting with her son's or daughter's classmates and mothers. The program consisted of a clarinet duet, piano solo, and reading. It was an afternoon full of fellowship as the senior class was gathered as a whole for one of the last times.

G.A.A. Banquet

The G.A.A. Banquet is an awards banquet for the girls in athletics. Every girl who participates receives recognition on that night. This year's banquet was again a night of fun and fellowship. Ellen Hilarides and Sharon Vander Plas played a clarinet duet and Bev Koning did a reading. Along with the announcement of the most valuable player awards, Susan Vander Kooi was chosen Outstanding Senior Athlete.

Letterman's Banquet

This year, Valley's athletes were honored on June 2, 1973. Parents and dates of the boys watched with open pride as the boys were acknowledged for participating in sports. The boys themselves voted for the most valuable player in each particular sport. The Letterman's Banquet was another way of showing that the pain, sweat, and hard practices were not in vain.

Chapel and Special Assemblies

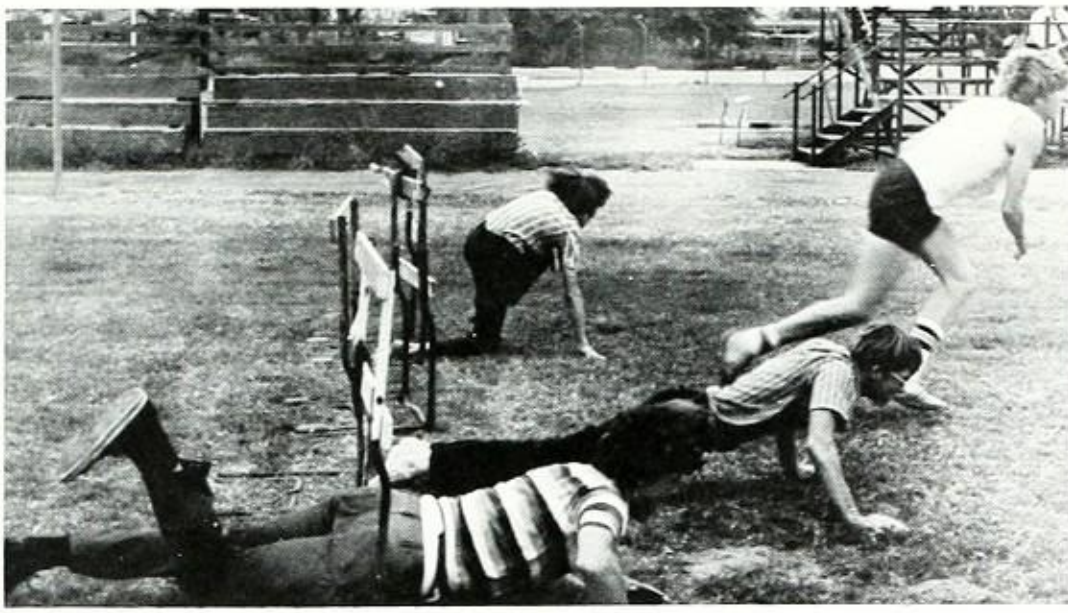

Special assemblies are a relaxing break from the usual, everyday routine. This break usually came in the form of a college choir. One of the choirs came from Northwestern and moved us with sacred and secular music. Another form of special assemblies that came only twice this year was the movie. This year we viewed "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "The Flim Flam Man." We thank the administration and the Student Council for the occasional break.

Wacky Olympics

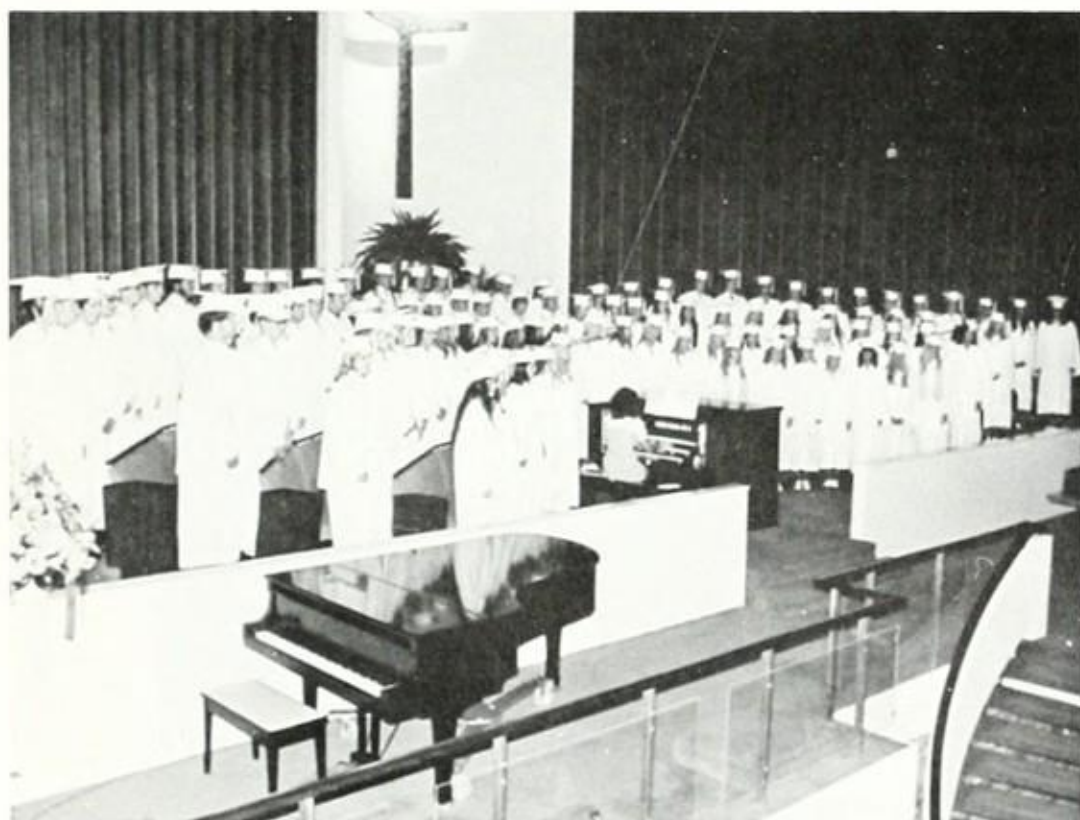

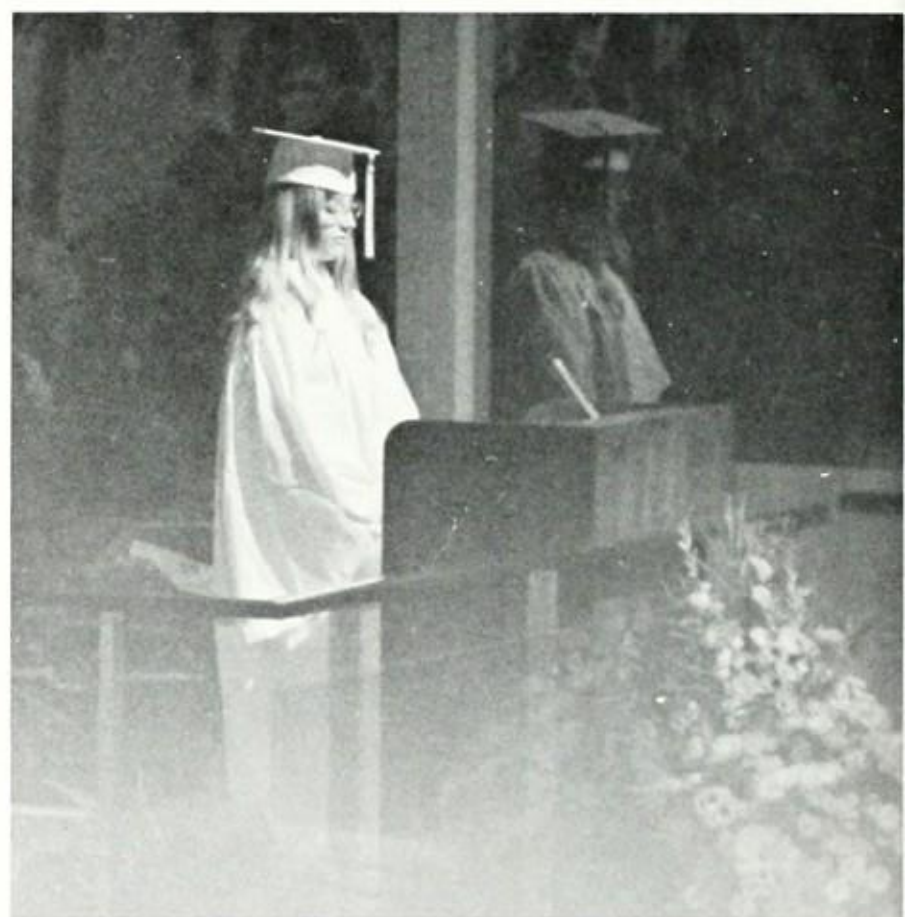

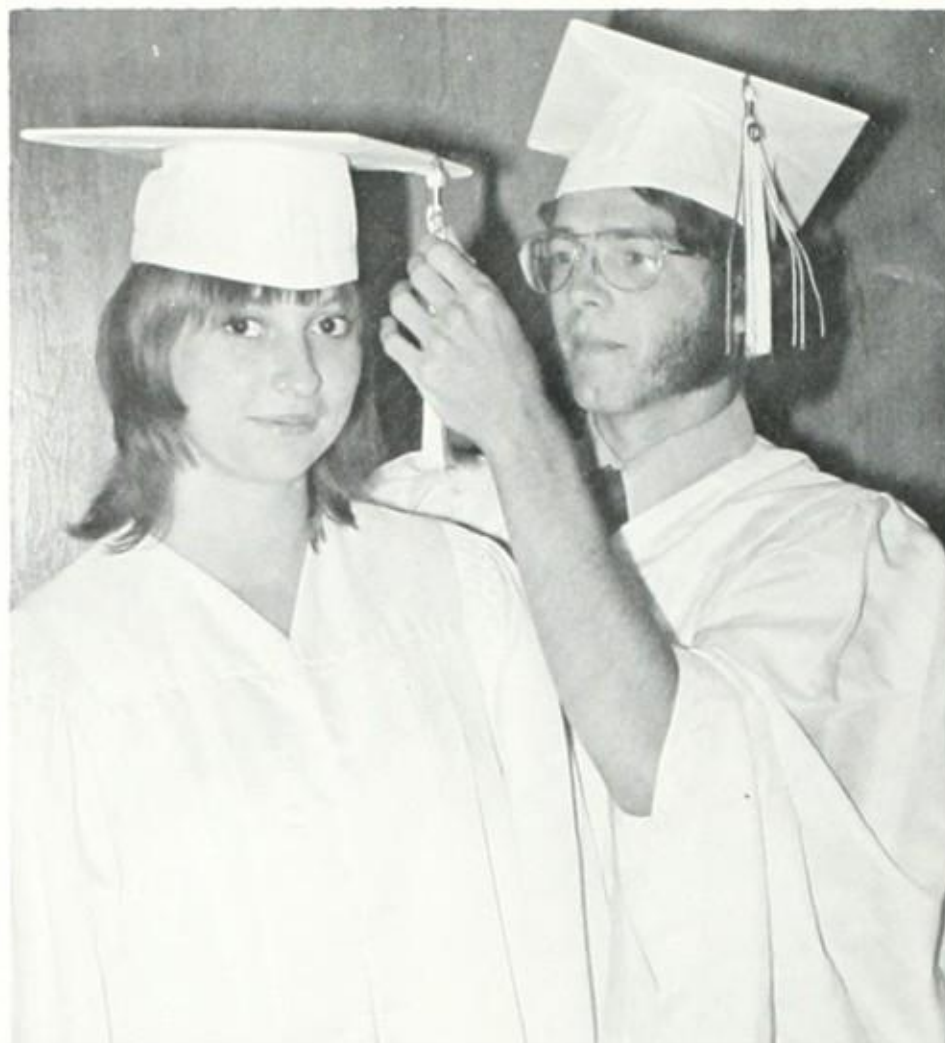

The excitement rose as the Wacky Olympics began. Each class president ran with the traditional Olympic torch while David and Dan played the Olympic theme. Whether a person participated in the wheel-barrow race, three legged or sack race, frisbee throw, egg toss, pass-the-lifesaver-by-toothpick competition, or crawling-under-the-hurdles race, he knew he had to do his very best. With the Seniors coming out ahead, every student at Valley will remember the great day of the Wacky Olympics.

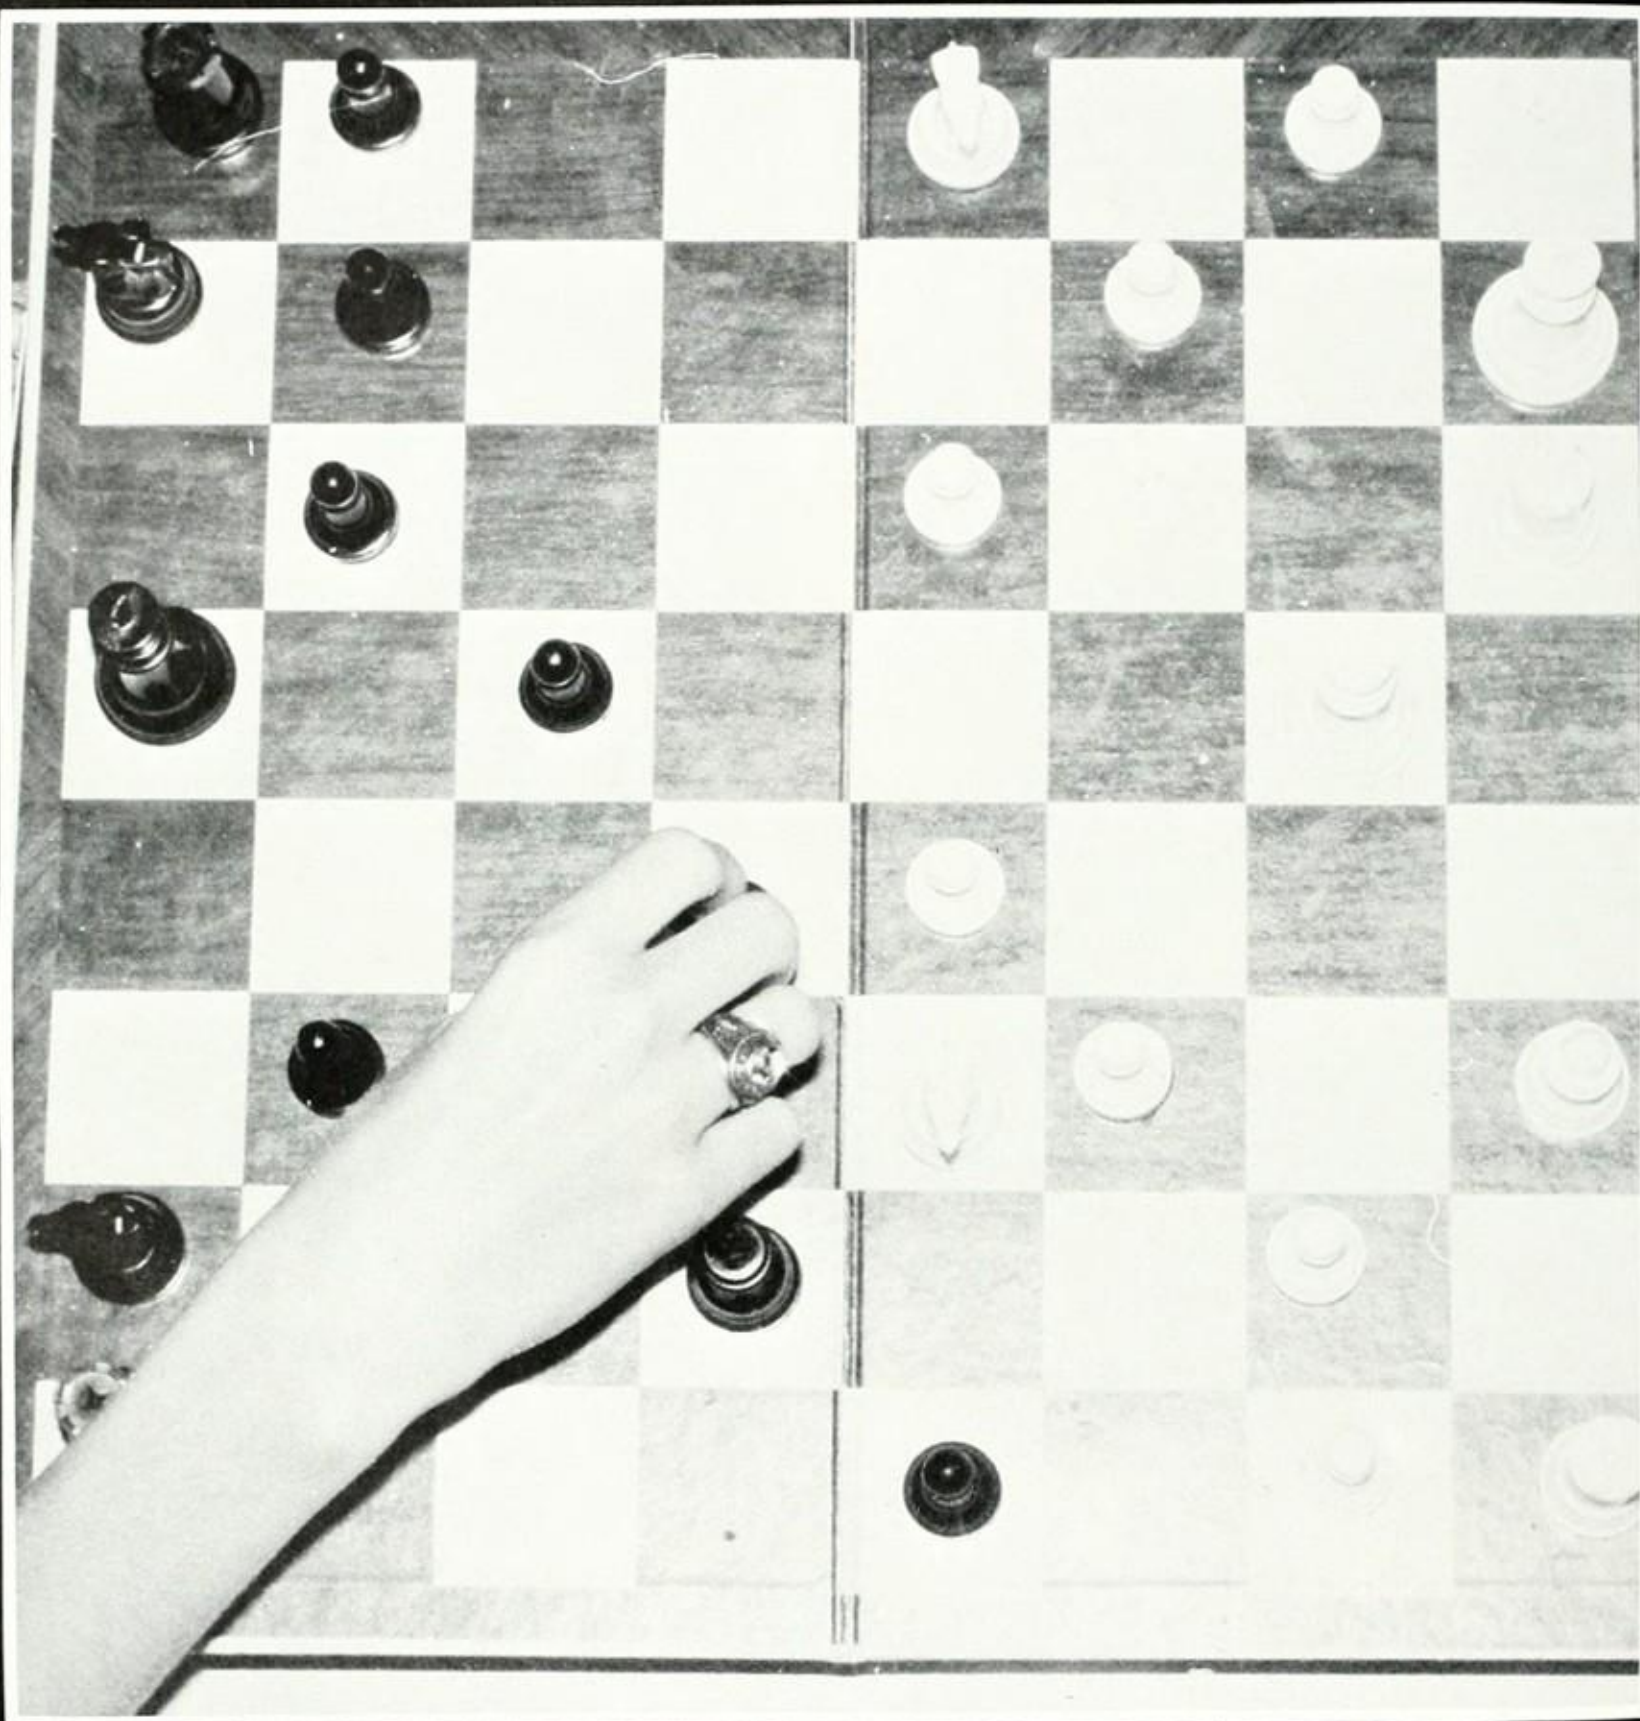

Graduation

The graduation ceremonies of the Class of 1973 were held in the beautiful sanctuary of the El Dorado Park Community Church. The graduates were led by Junior class escorts Harvey Saarloos and Barb Negen, as they marched down the aisles to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance." Beverly Koning presented the valedictorian address and Ann Bansberg had the salutatorian honors. Rev. W. Ackerman, pastor of the First Christian Reformed Church of Bellflower, urged the graduates to "Walk in Love" in his commencement address.

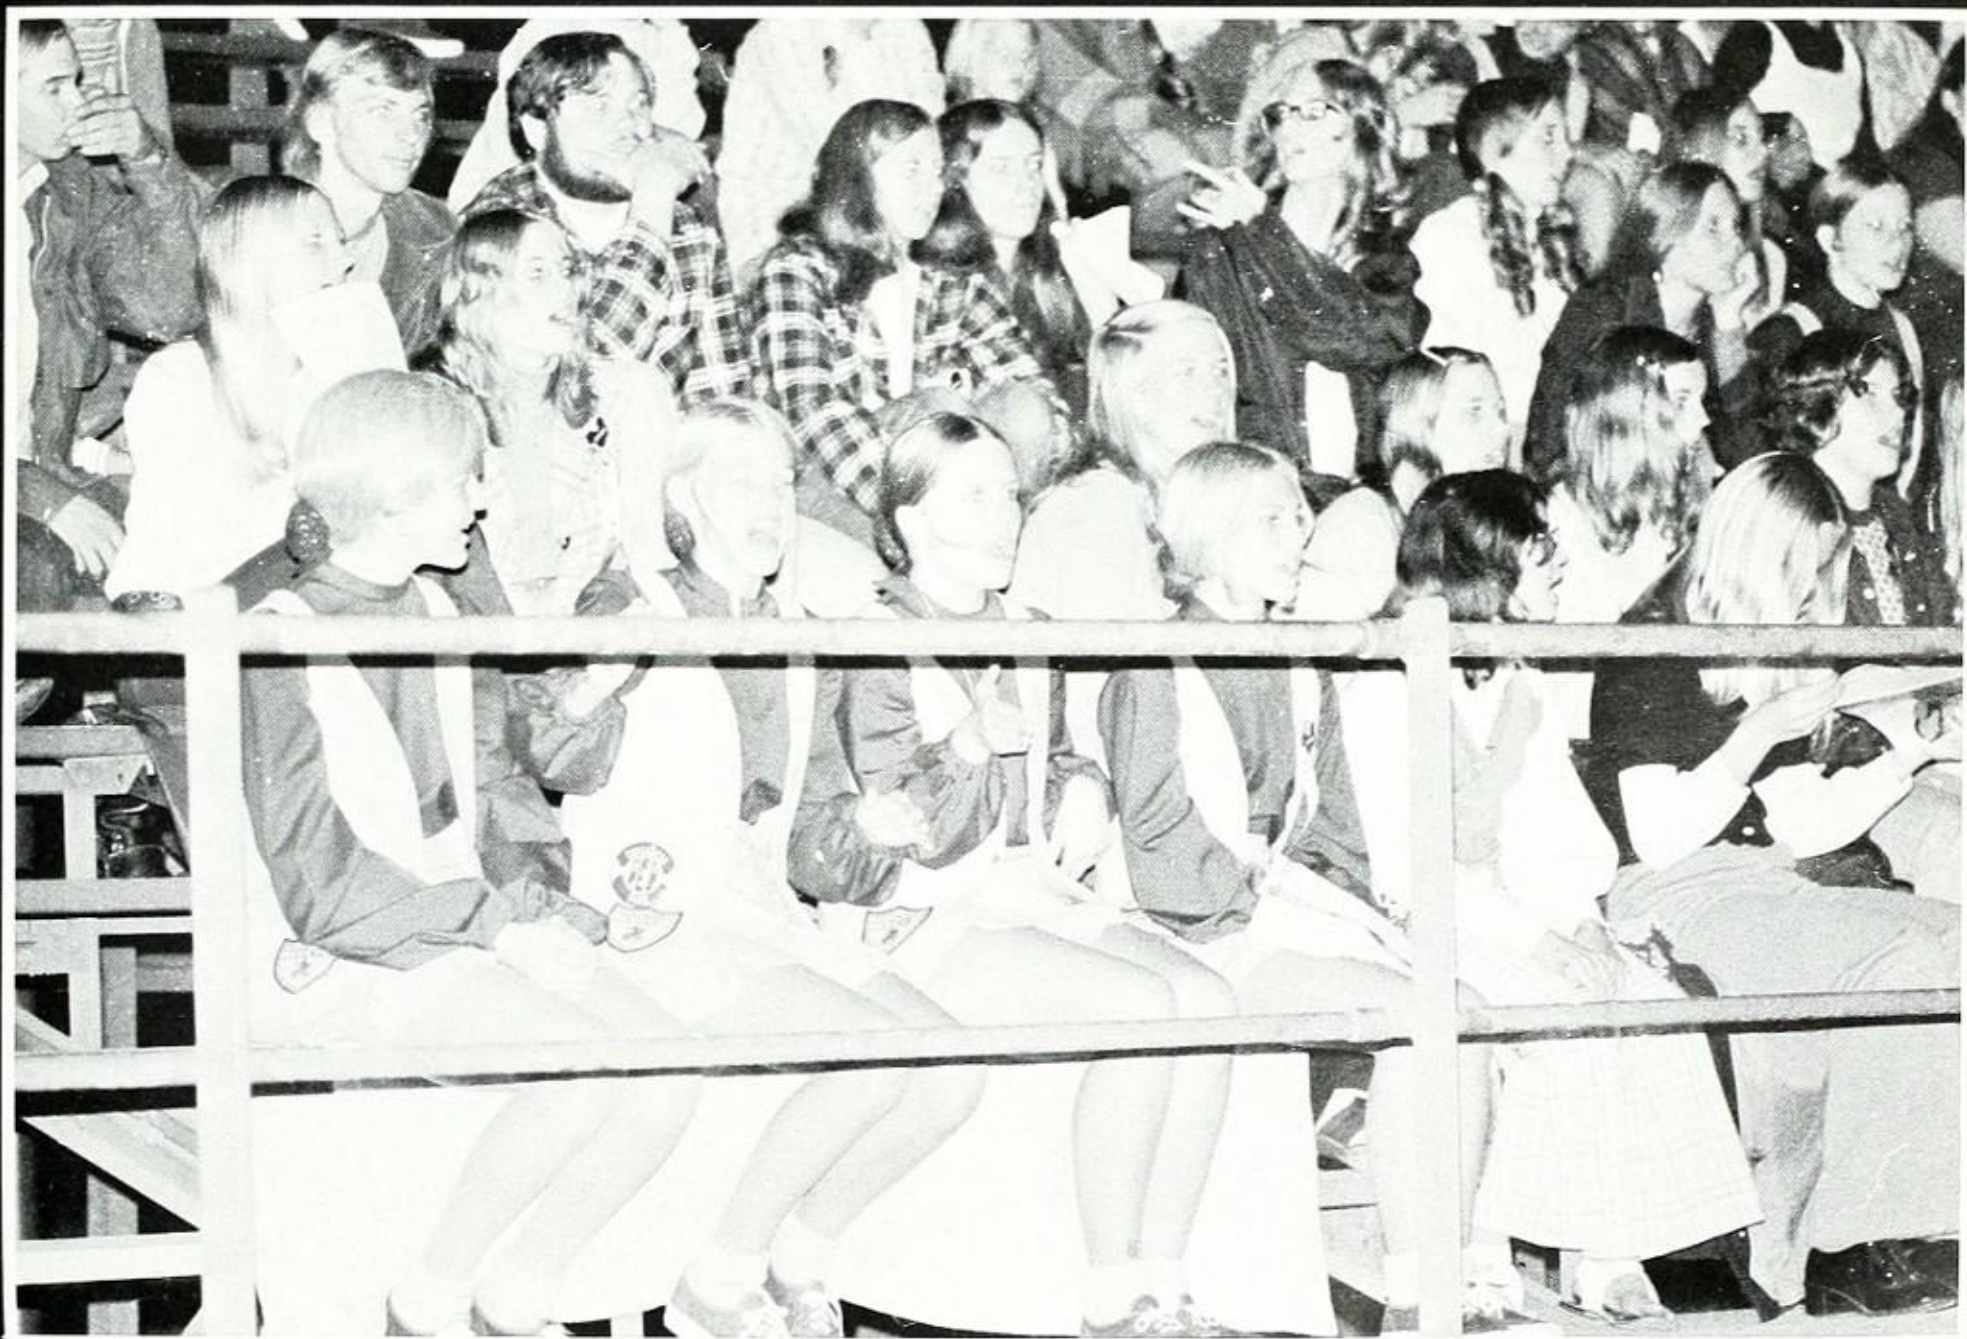

CLUBS

Move a chess piece, snap a picture . . . Clubs are the excuse. Whether it be buying, baking, yelling, tutoring, or slaving long hours over a computer, these clubs constitute a vital part of Valley's inner life—one which teems with enthusiams and overflows with results. Surely, in Him we live, and move, and have our being.

SECOND ROW: Deanne Zonnefeld, Lynda Groot, Marlene Mulder, Cindy Biel, Nancy De Young, Sharon Vander Plas, Ralph Van Bruggen. Student Council

A typical student council meeting began with Forrest, our president, calling the meeting to order and asking a person to open with prayer. After prayer, our secretary, Jeannie, would finally show up and we would begin. There is no way one can explain fully what happens in a Student Council meeting or tell all that is discussed, but summing up this year's Student Council in one word would be--chaos! Despite this chaos, Student Council has played an active part in breaking up the everyday routine of school life this past year. In addition to showing the movies, "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "The Flim Flam Man," Student Council also sponsored a "Nifty-Fifties Day," in which the student body recreated the "1950's" era in both dress and talk.

Drill Team

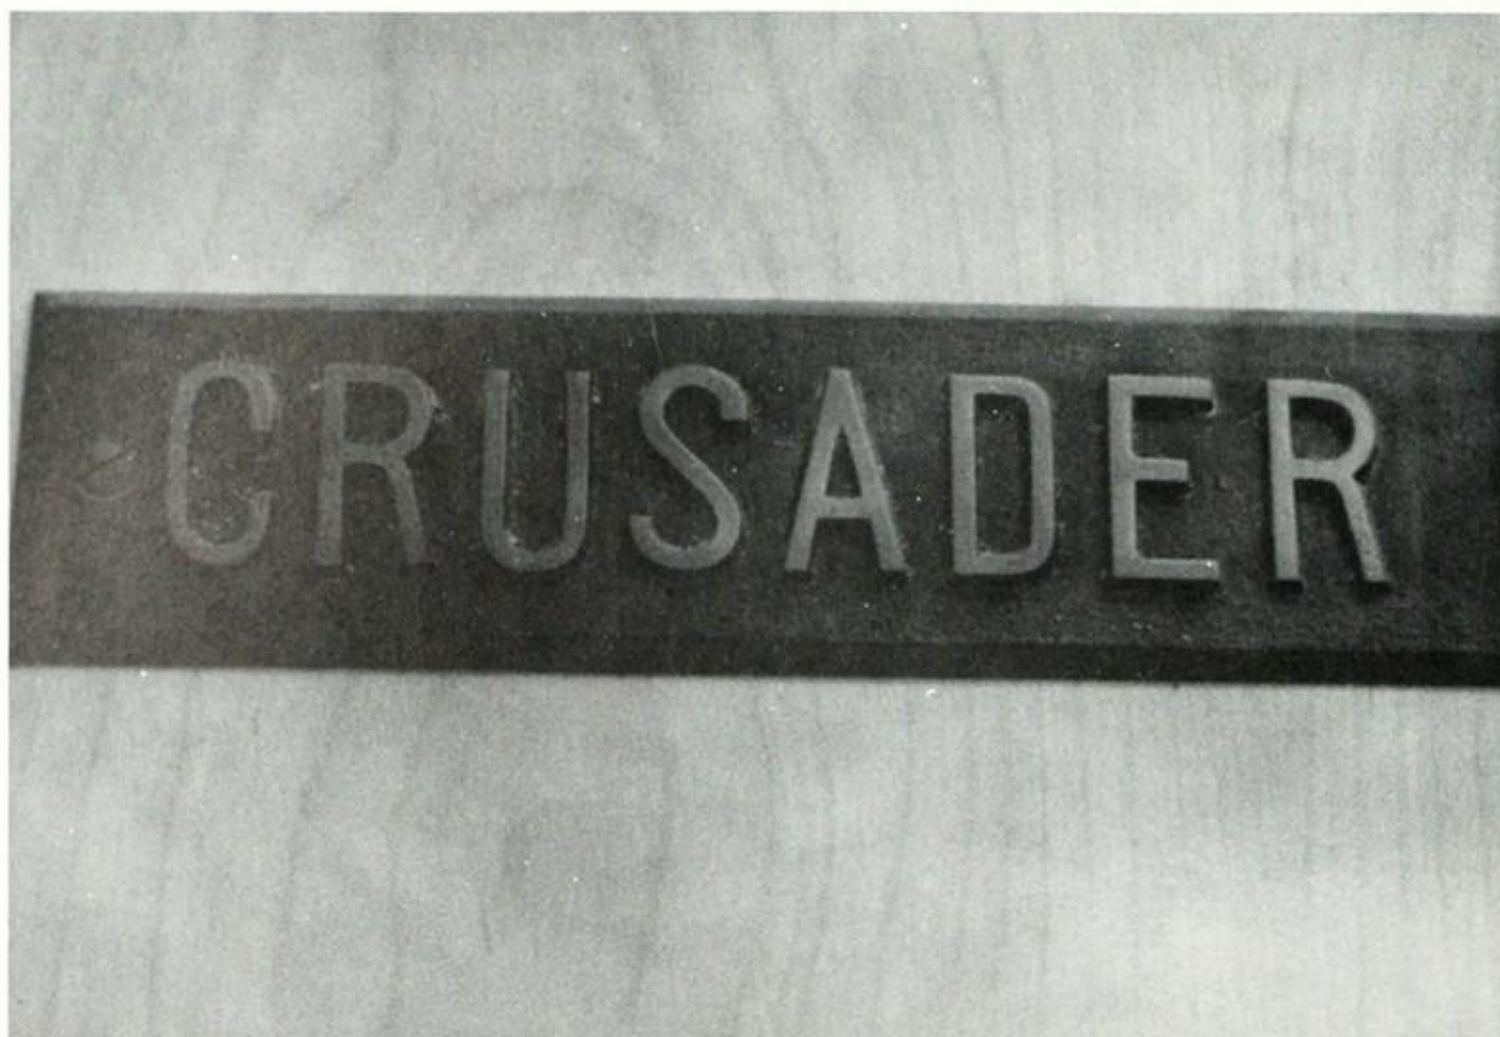

Drill Team is keeping in step, remembering the motions, selling anything and everything, smiling, being nervous, winning second place in the Santa Fe Springs parade, smiling, being on T.V., performing at halftime shows, smiling when you don't make it, crying when you do, having fun, and more smiling.

Valley's Drill Team was great this year. They won third place in the Artesia Parade, first place in the Bellflower Parade, and second place in the Santa Fe Springs Parade. Lois Anema did a fine job as captain, with Nancy De Young as the Lieutenant. The team showed pride and spirit as they marched on to win more and more trophies.

Annual Staff

Taking pictures, working late nights, writing and rewriting copy, headaches, and worries are all part of being on the annual staff. Under Miss Bakker's leadership, all the editors performed their various duties. Julia was responsible for the ads; Louise's job was assigning and collecting copy; Rich was responsible for taking and developing pictures; Howie took care of the sports pages; Tim did all the art work; and Susan, our "Chief," made sure everything was put together, turned in, typed, and layouts completed. Even though the work was hard and tiresome, it was also a year full of fun and good times as the 1973 Crusader was created.

A letter from the editor:

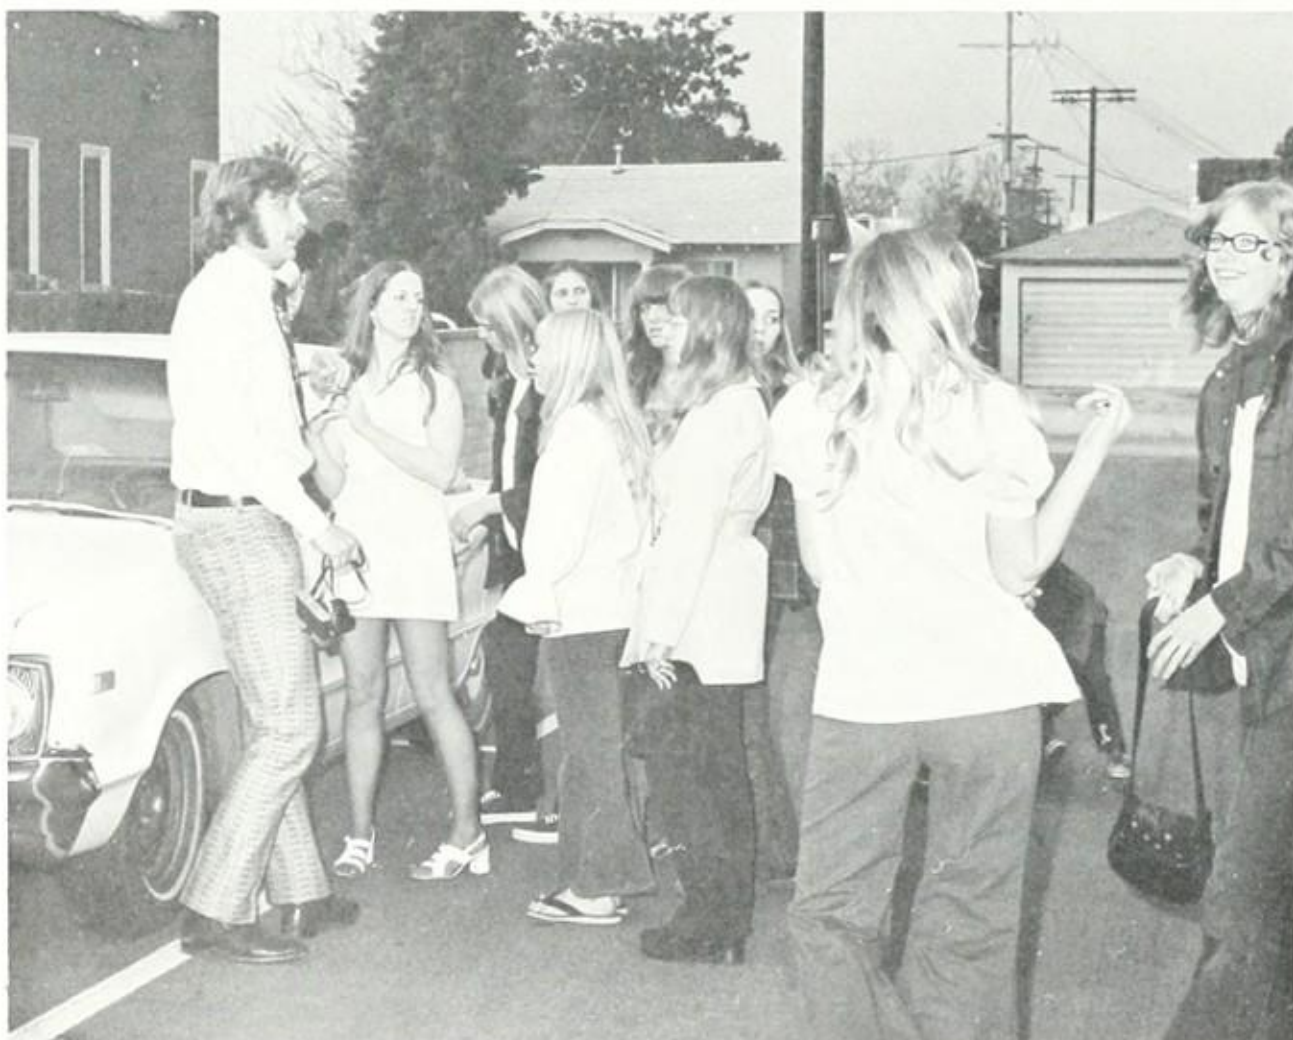

I would like to thank all of the people on the annual staff for helping with this annual. The whole staff wishes to thank you, Miss Bakker, for everything you did, for all the help you gave us, for being with us when we needed you. I would like to thank Nancy for writing and typing a lot of the copy. I would like to thank Howie for coming to the annual office, along with Nancy and me, every day for a month after school was out. I would like to thank Harold, Rich De Vries, and Rich Milstead for coming and developing and even taking pictures when I needed them. I would also like to thank Tim Rinker for being the great artist that he is, and drawing something whenever we ran out of pictures. Thanks again, everyone!

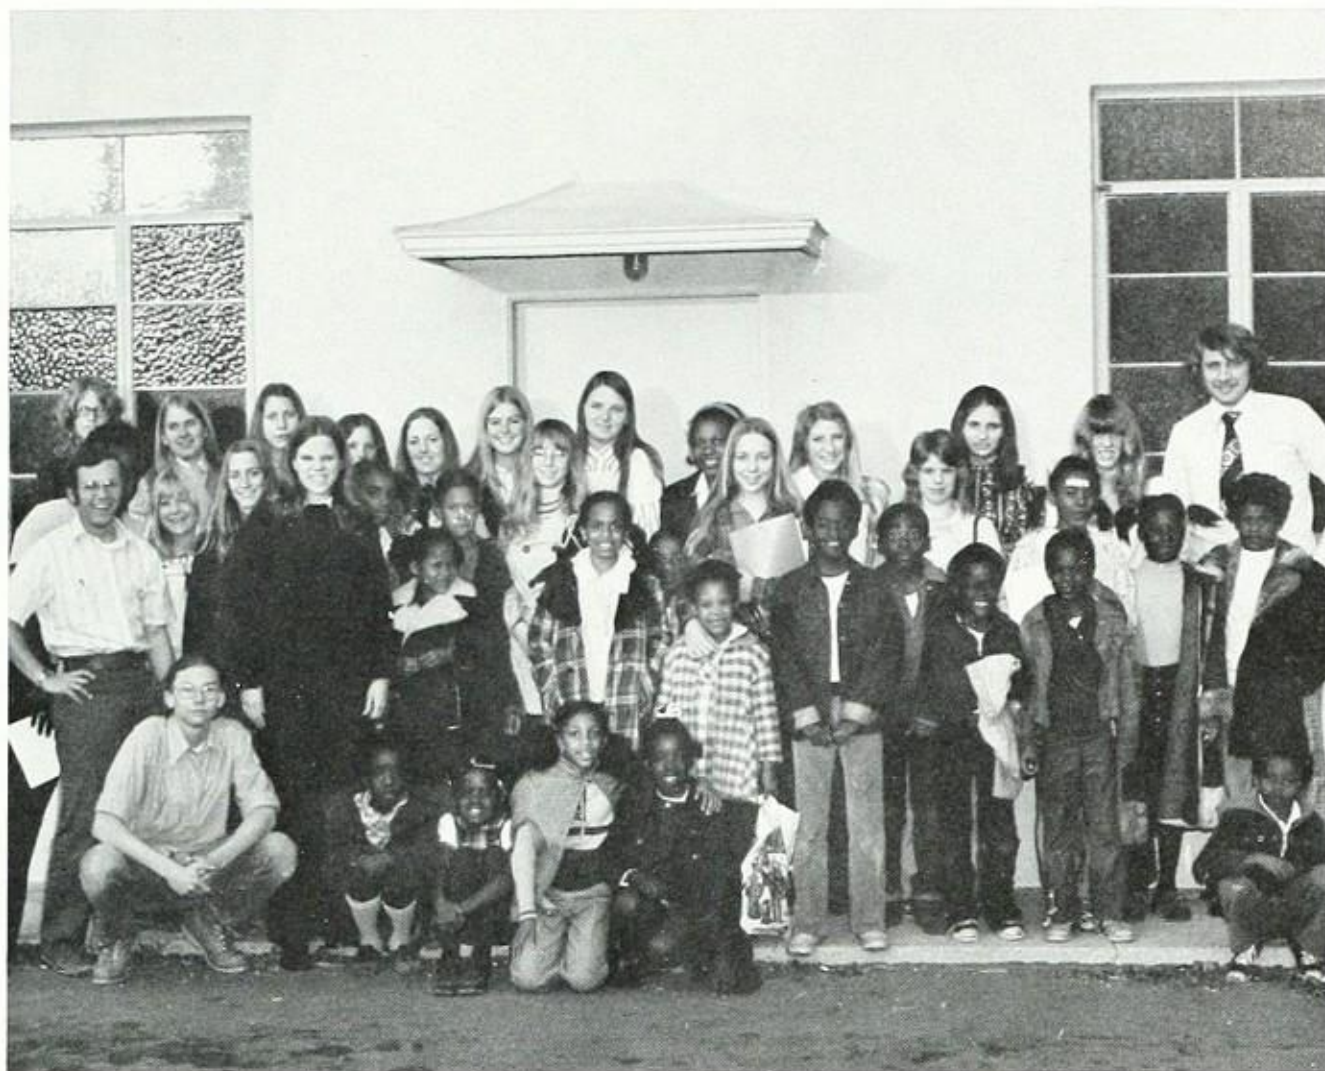

Susan

Tutors tute tutees

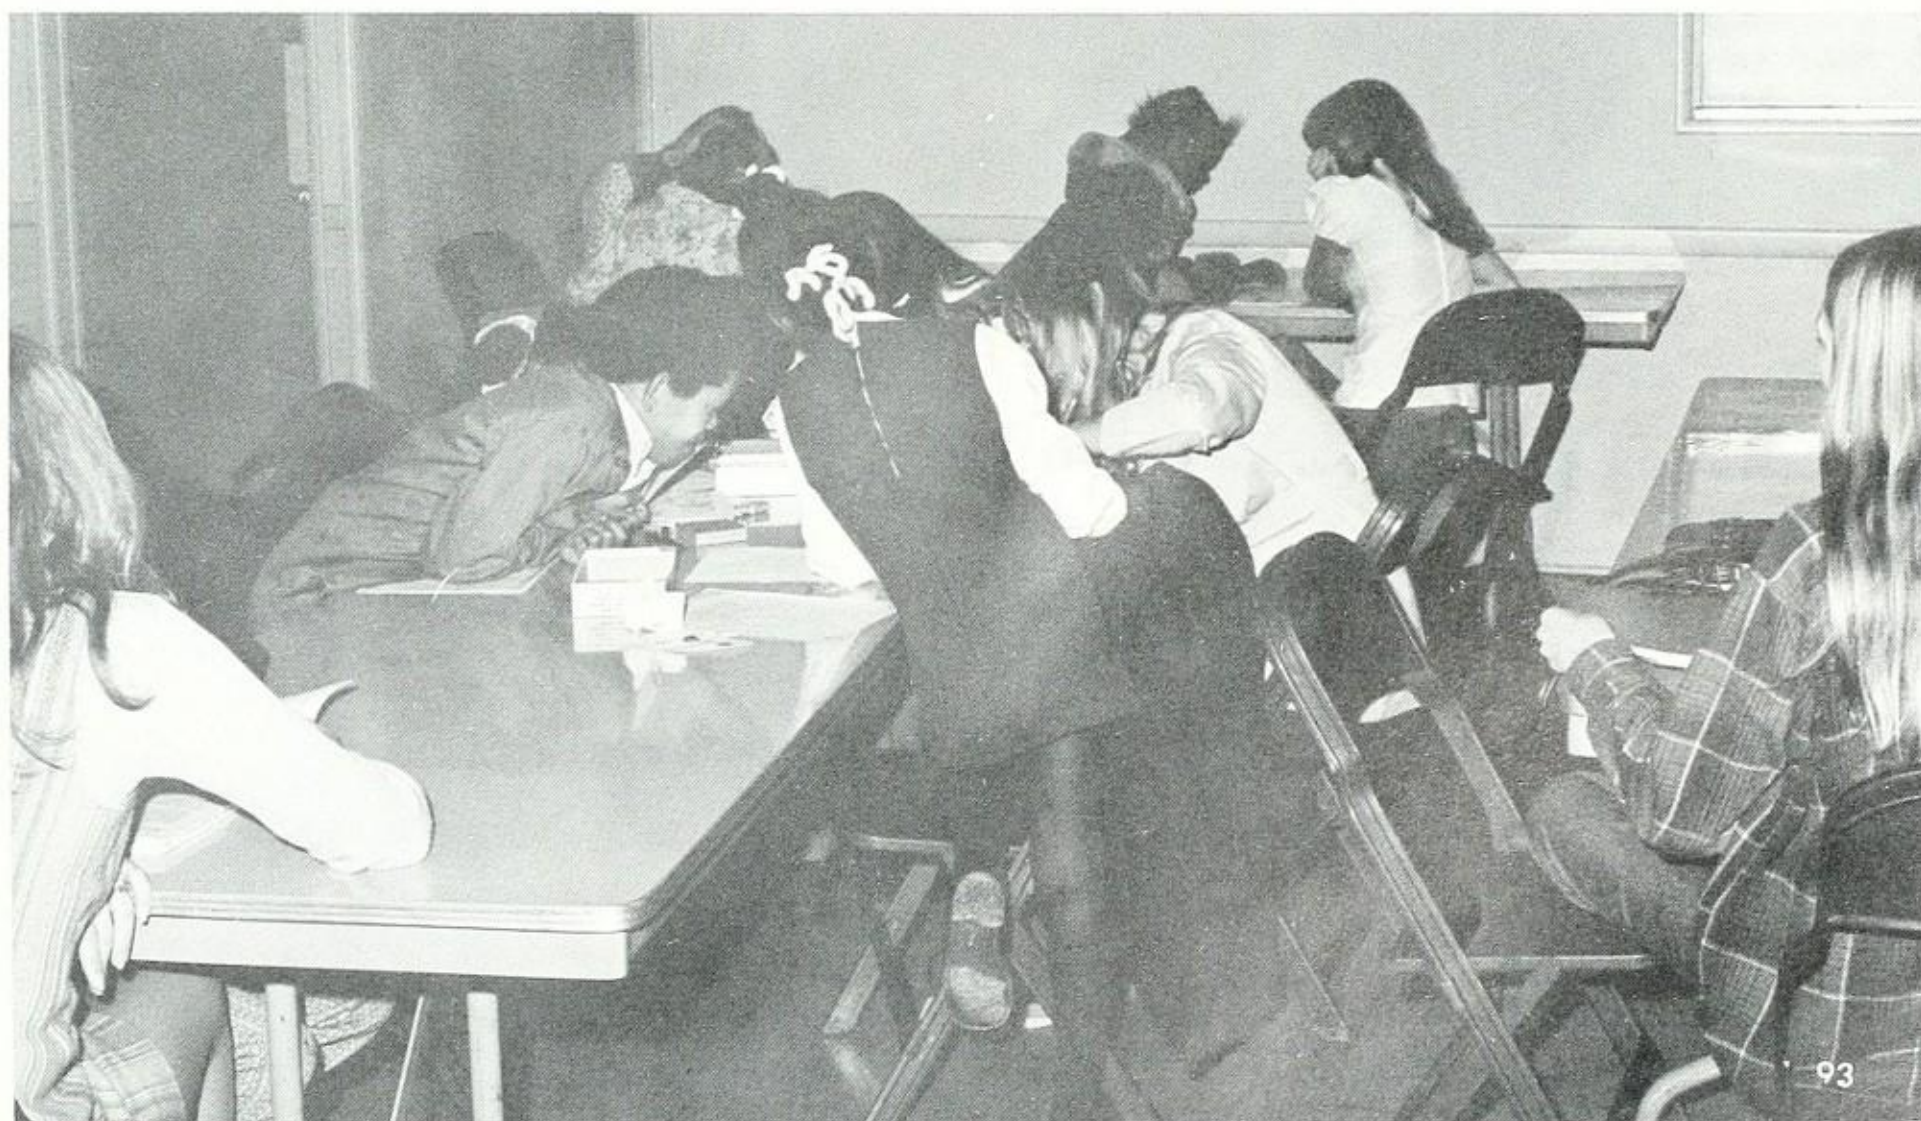

Every Thursday, Valley sent about three car-loads of tutors to the Los Angeles Christian Reformed Church. The tutoring program was again, basically, a reading program, trying to improve the reading ability of inner-city children. The tutors also hosted parties for their tutees at Christmas and at "farewell" time. All enjoyed their experiences and hope next year's program will be as good or better than this year's.

FIRST ROW: Tutees. SECOND ROW: A Helper, Sue Van Hofwegan, Another Helper, Cheryl Blonk, Two Tutees, Ann Bansberg, Alice Weening, Lori Thompson. THIRD ROW: Wendy Koning, Mary Ann Scholte, Lois Englehard, Pam Craker, Lennae Vander Broek, Irene De Boer, Louise Weeda, Yet Another Helper, Bev Koning, Sandy Van Dyk, Linda Yates; Mr. Cole, Advisor.

Gazette Staff

The Gazette staff tries to put out the paper at least once every month. Although this is not always the case, it is very enjoyable to both the students and the faculty when it does come out.

Pep Club

Aside from the participants in athletics at games, there were on-lookers. Those who were Pep Club members attended all home games to give our teams their enthusiasm and moral support. This group of students put on pep rallies which entertained Valley with many skits and mock football or basketball games. They put up signs and posters and sold ribbons for each game. The school spirit was noticeably improved by the efforts put forth by the Pep Club.

Chess club

In room 22 during lunch, the chess club comes together to "do their thing." Their thing is to conquer and defend on the checkered battleground. Each member's main goal is to cry "Checkmate" and to secure another victory. Though the chess club might not be as well publicized as other clubs, it is popular with underclassmen as well as juniors and seniors.

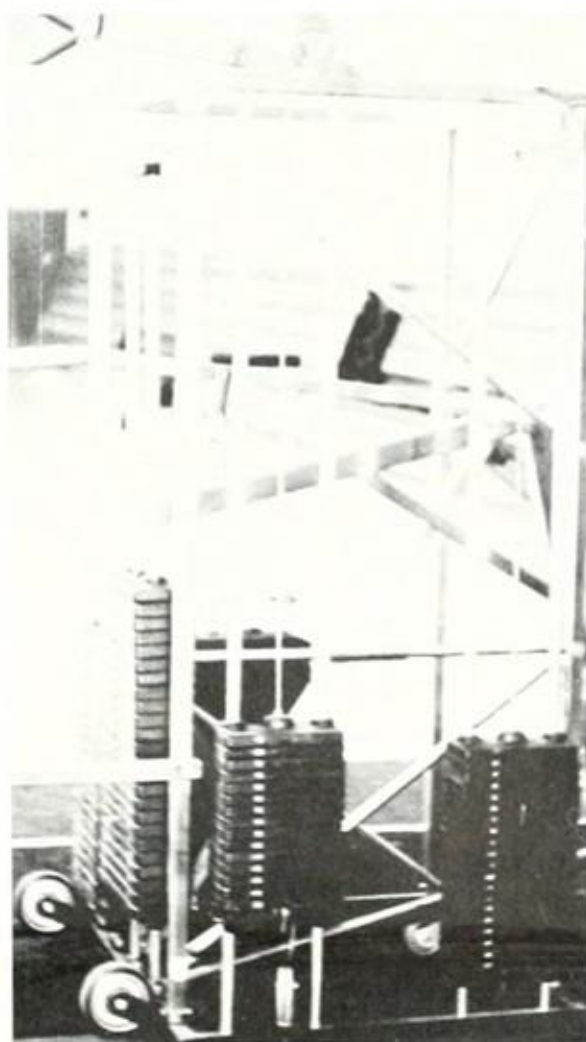

Honor Society

The individuals that belong to this organization could be classified as the "brains" of Valley. They enjoy many privileges such as the SAS Banquet, Honor Society Induction, and the annual field trip. This year they visited the Queen Mary and went to the movie "Man of La Mancha." It is an organization well worth working to become a part of.

Varsity Club

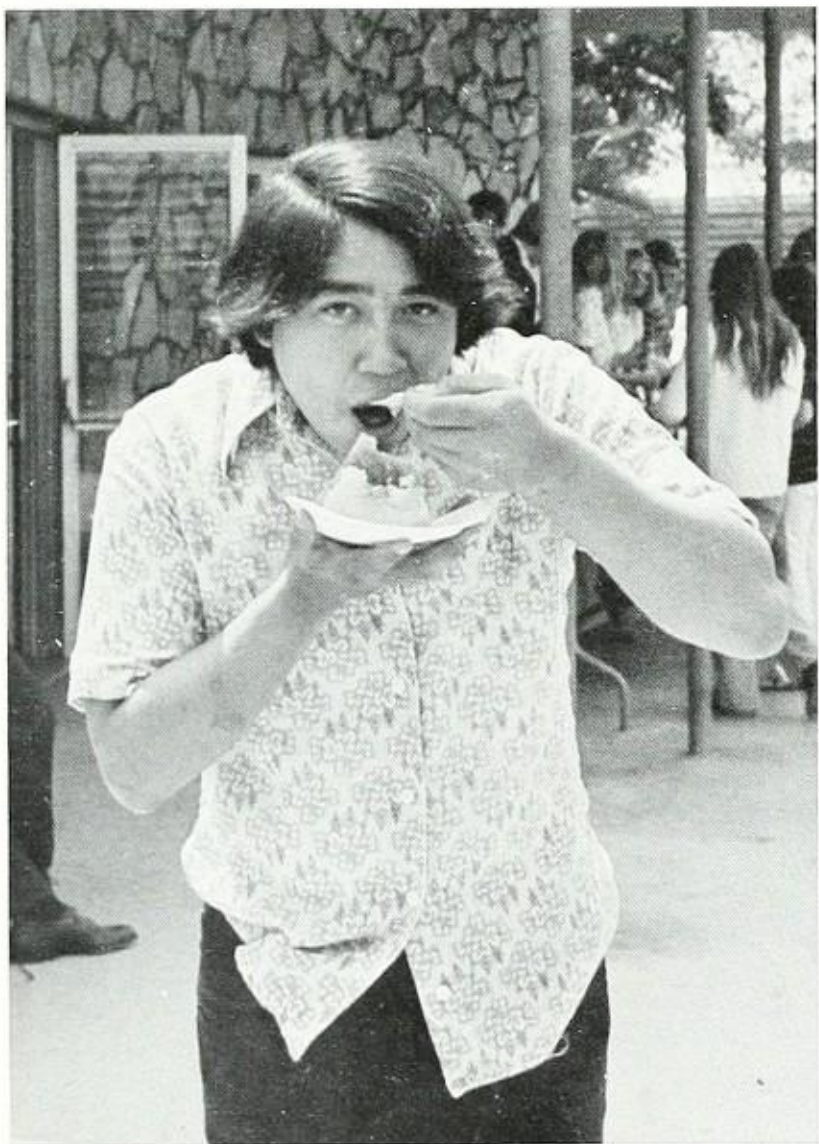

The Varsity Club includes athletes who have lettered in one or more Varsity sports. Not only are the members athletes, but they help the spectators in another way. They sell programs and work in the canteen during basketball games. The money earned goes to buy new equipment for various sports.

Math Club

The Math Club was very busy this year. The members supplied the students with either pie, cake, donuts, or cookies at least two times a week. In addition to having bake sales, they also sold posters and hot dogs. They raised over one thousand dollars during the year for the computer.

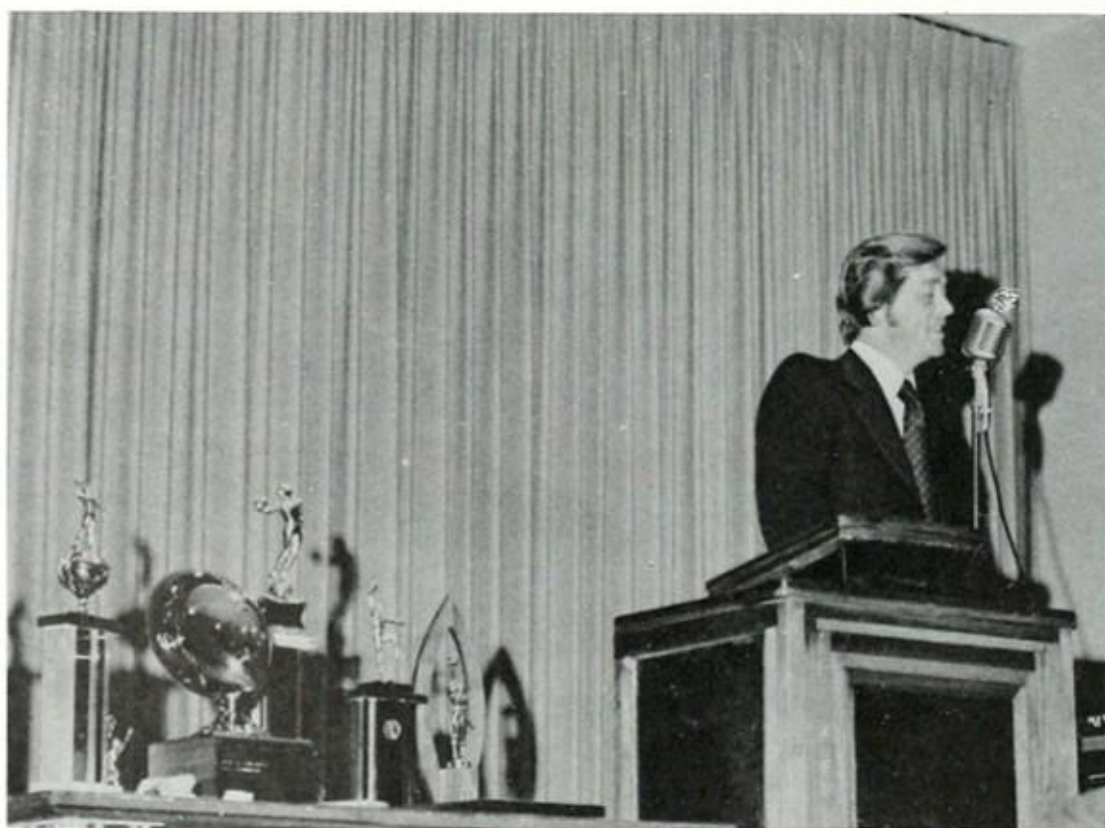

Band Parents

Once again the Band Parents were helpful to the Band. They held their traditional Soup and Pie Supper. With the $1300 that was raised they were able to buy more shoes and spats, pay for the new and glittering Identification Unit, and build a trophy case to display the band's many awards. The Band Parents were also helpful with the many parades in which the Band participated. They were always present to brush down the uniforms and the hats and to polish up the shoes. All in all they have proven themselves to be a great asset to the Band.

Booster Club

The Booster Club is a great help to the Athletic Department at Valley. They sponsored the football barbecue plus the annual Christmas Tournament to raise money for needed sports equipment. The climax of the Booster Club's work was again the annual Letterman's Banquet. Valley would not have such a fine athletic program without the help of the Booster Club.

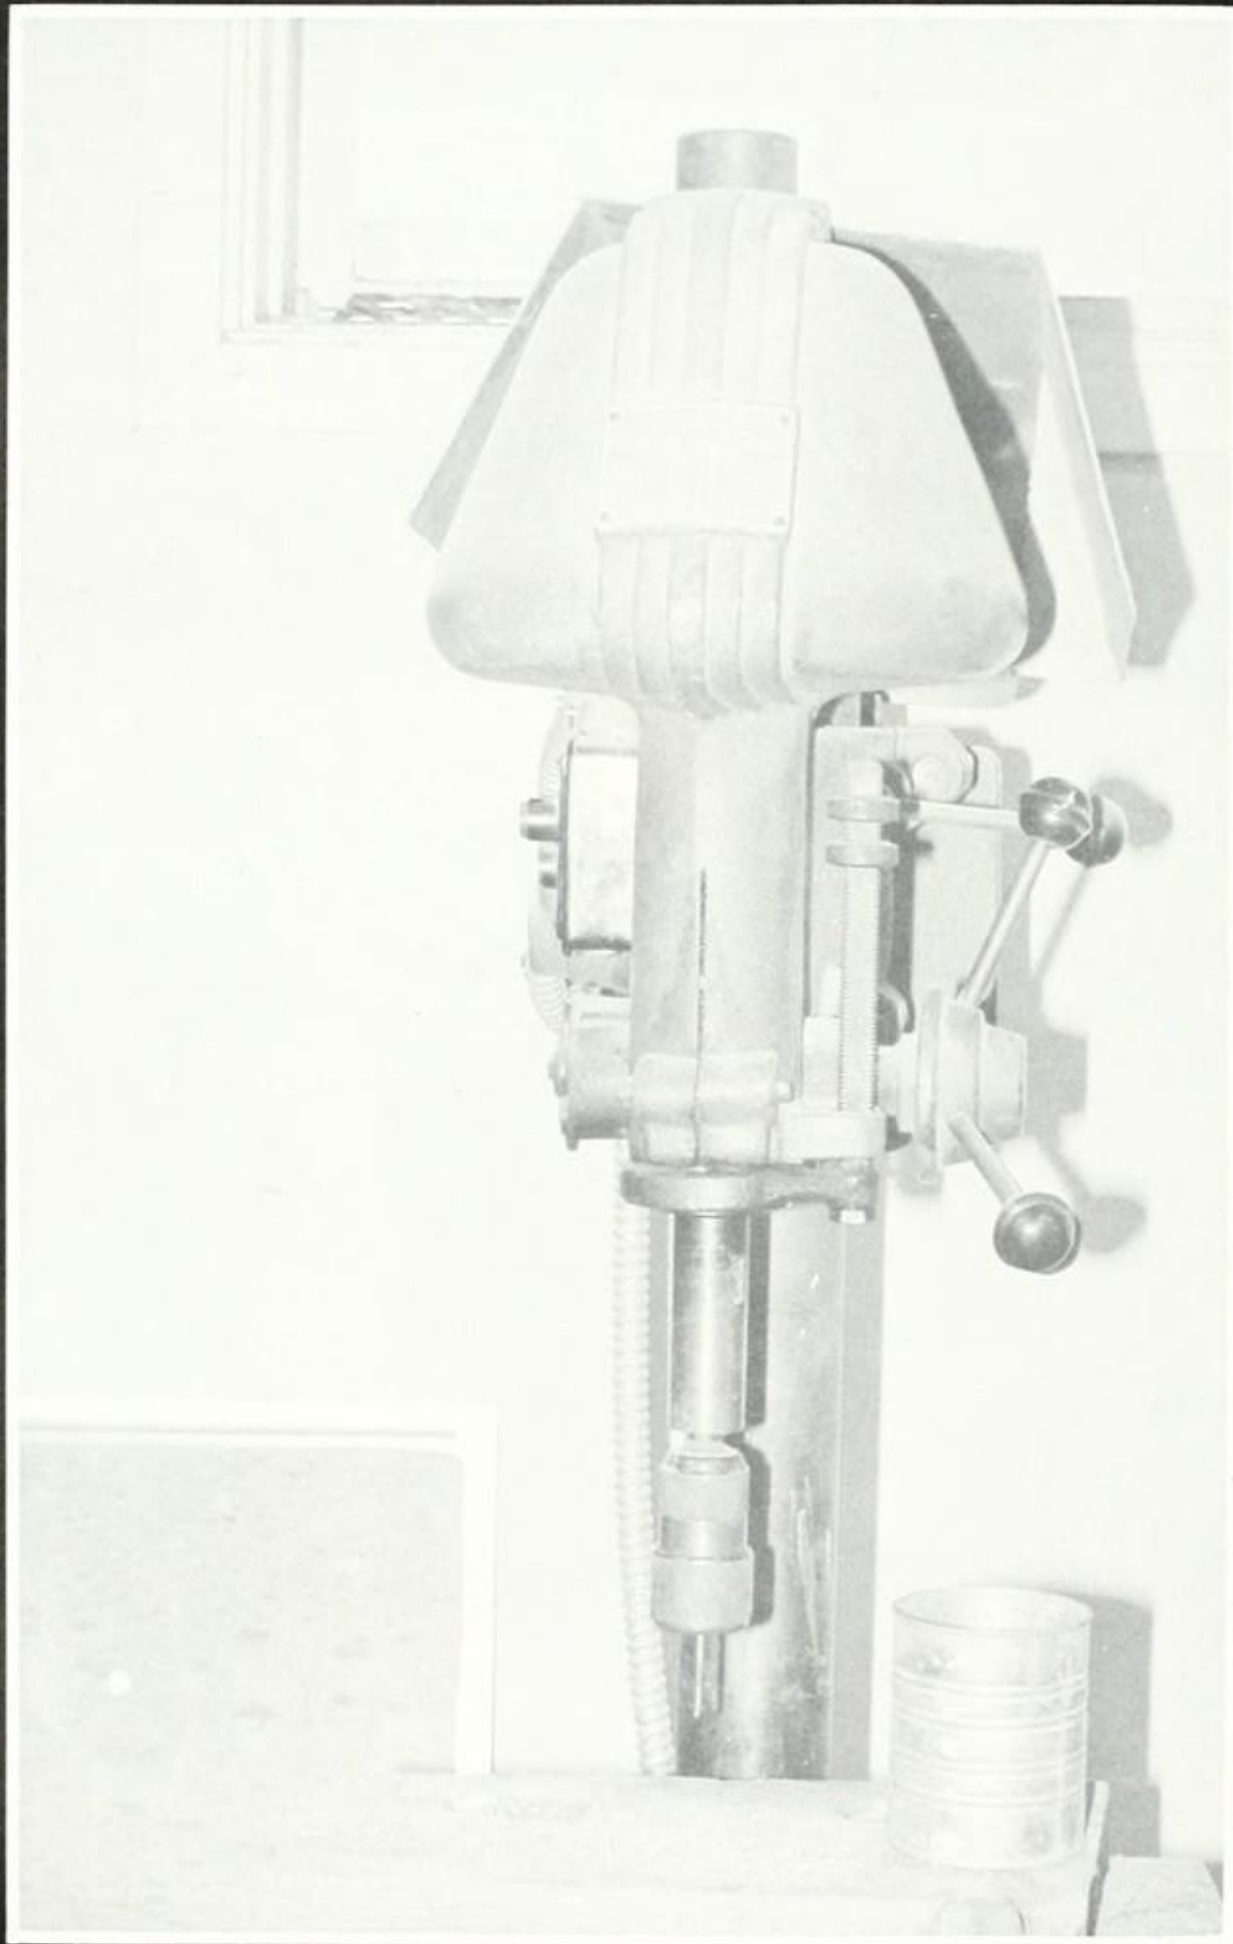

Mother's Club

Mother's Club is helpful to the school in many ways. They helped in buying the computer, all the students and schools with the paper drives, organized the Fall Festival, sponsored the Spring Flower Show, and supplied the students with hot lunches. We thank the Mother's Club for all it's help.

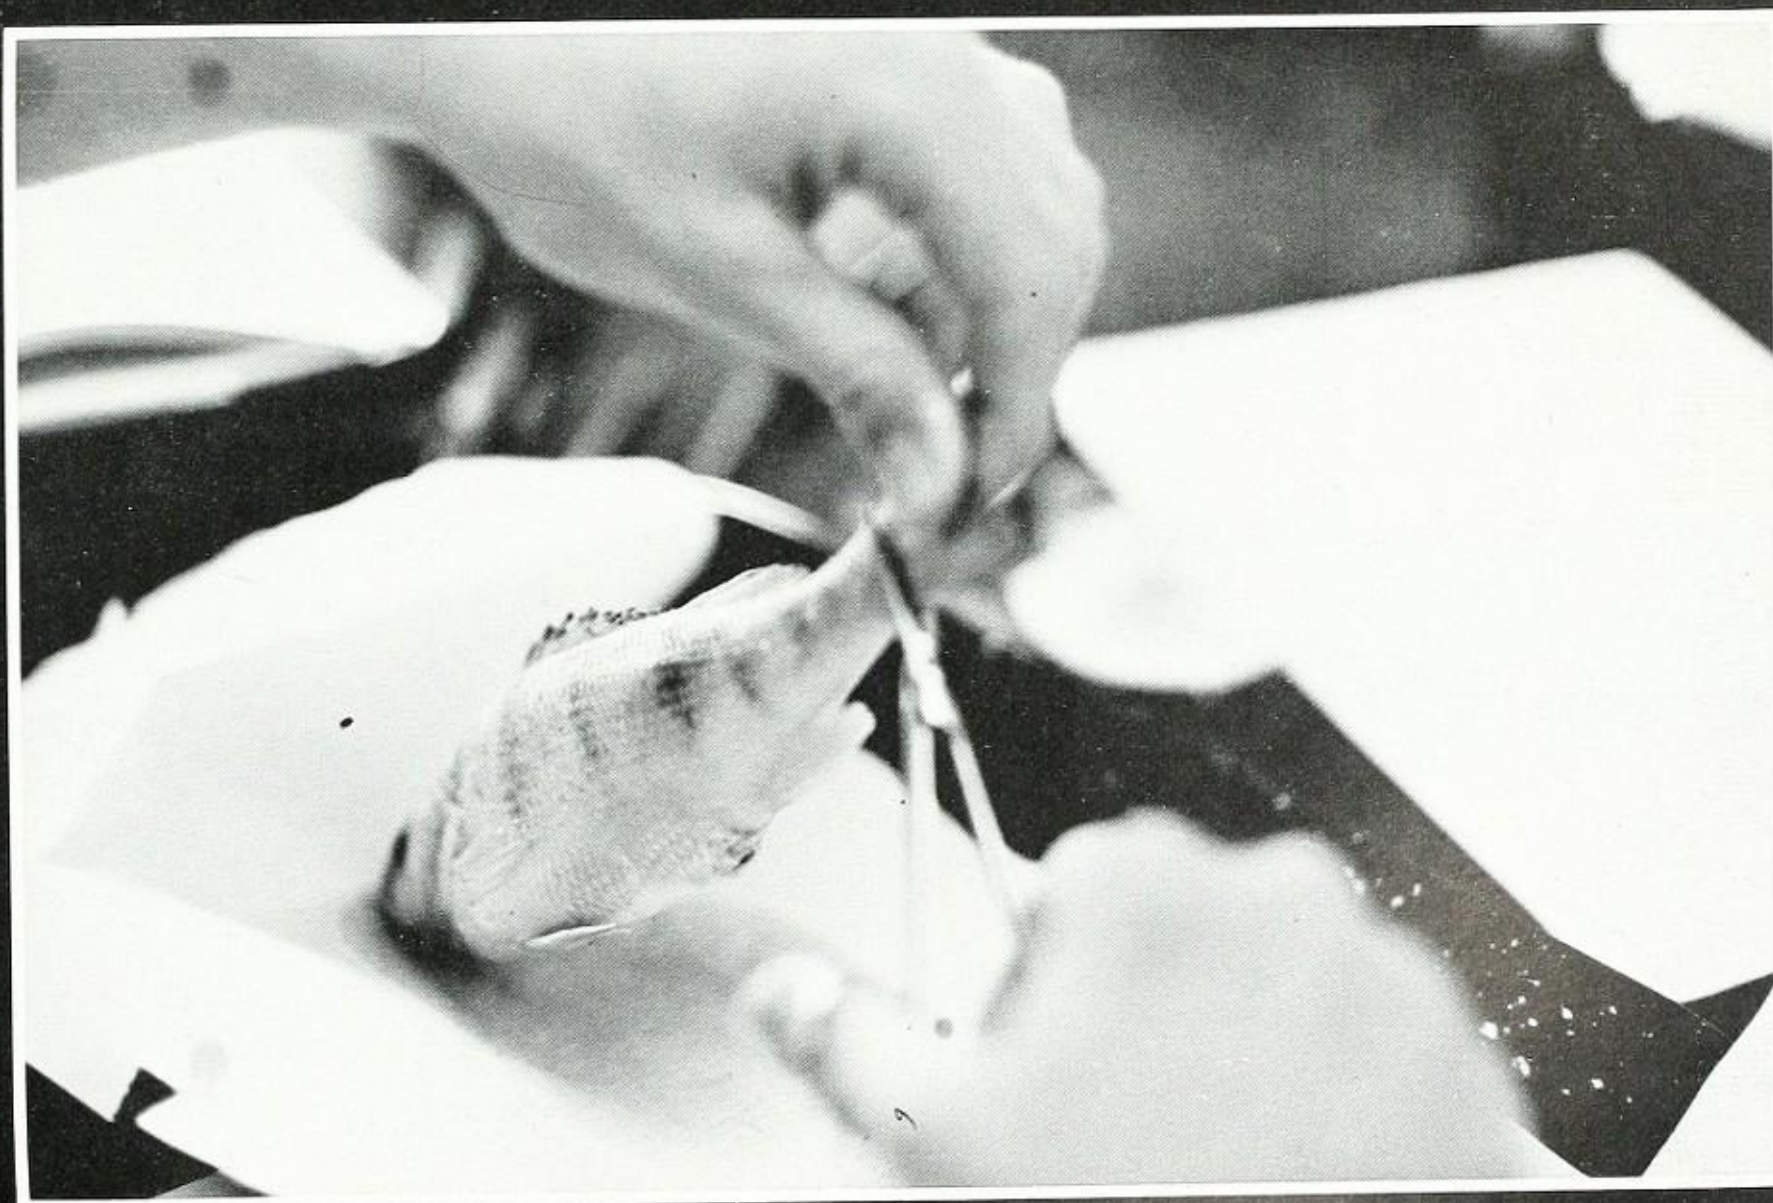

CLASSES

In Him we have our being . . .

We learn, read, and write; talk, joke, and pray—all in classes. They make up the major part of Valley, its entire curriculum, its whole program.

Bible is . . .

... remembering all those passages; learning the difference between interpretation, denomination, and sect; knowing the different practices of the Amish; memorizing Lord's Day I; and struggling through Rev. Boertje's mid-term exam.

Bible is also an important part of the curriculum and students' life at Valley.

Dear Marcia,
 As one of my sweetest
Science is... friend

... figuring out the force of an object; dissecting a worm, crayfish, and fetal pig; doing experiments in chemistry and not understanding what you are doing; watching movies in general science; and remembering the reproductive organs of a frog.

Science is just another necessity of our civilization and is taught to prepare the students for today's progress.

We have had some fun times, stay my friends and we will do more things, keep smiling

P.S. Good Picture Eh!!?

Language Study is . . .

...a quiz in German every Friday; writing plays; giving a speech to inform; learning the differences between a predicate nominative and a conjunction; making home movies; visiting the language lab during Spanish; getting a "B" on your 10-minute exam speech; remembering your lines for drama; and "Auf Wiedersehen". Language is communication and a way to express our feelings and thoughts.

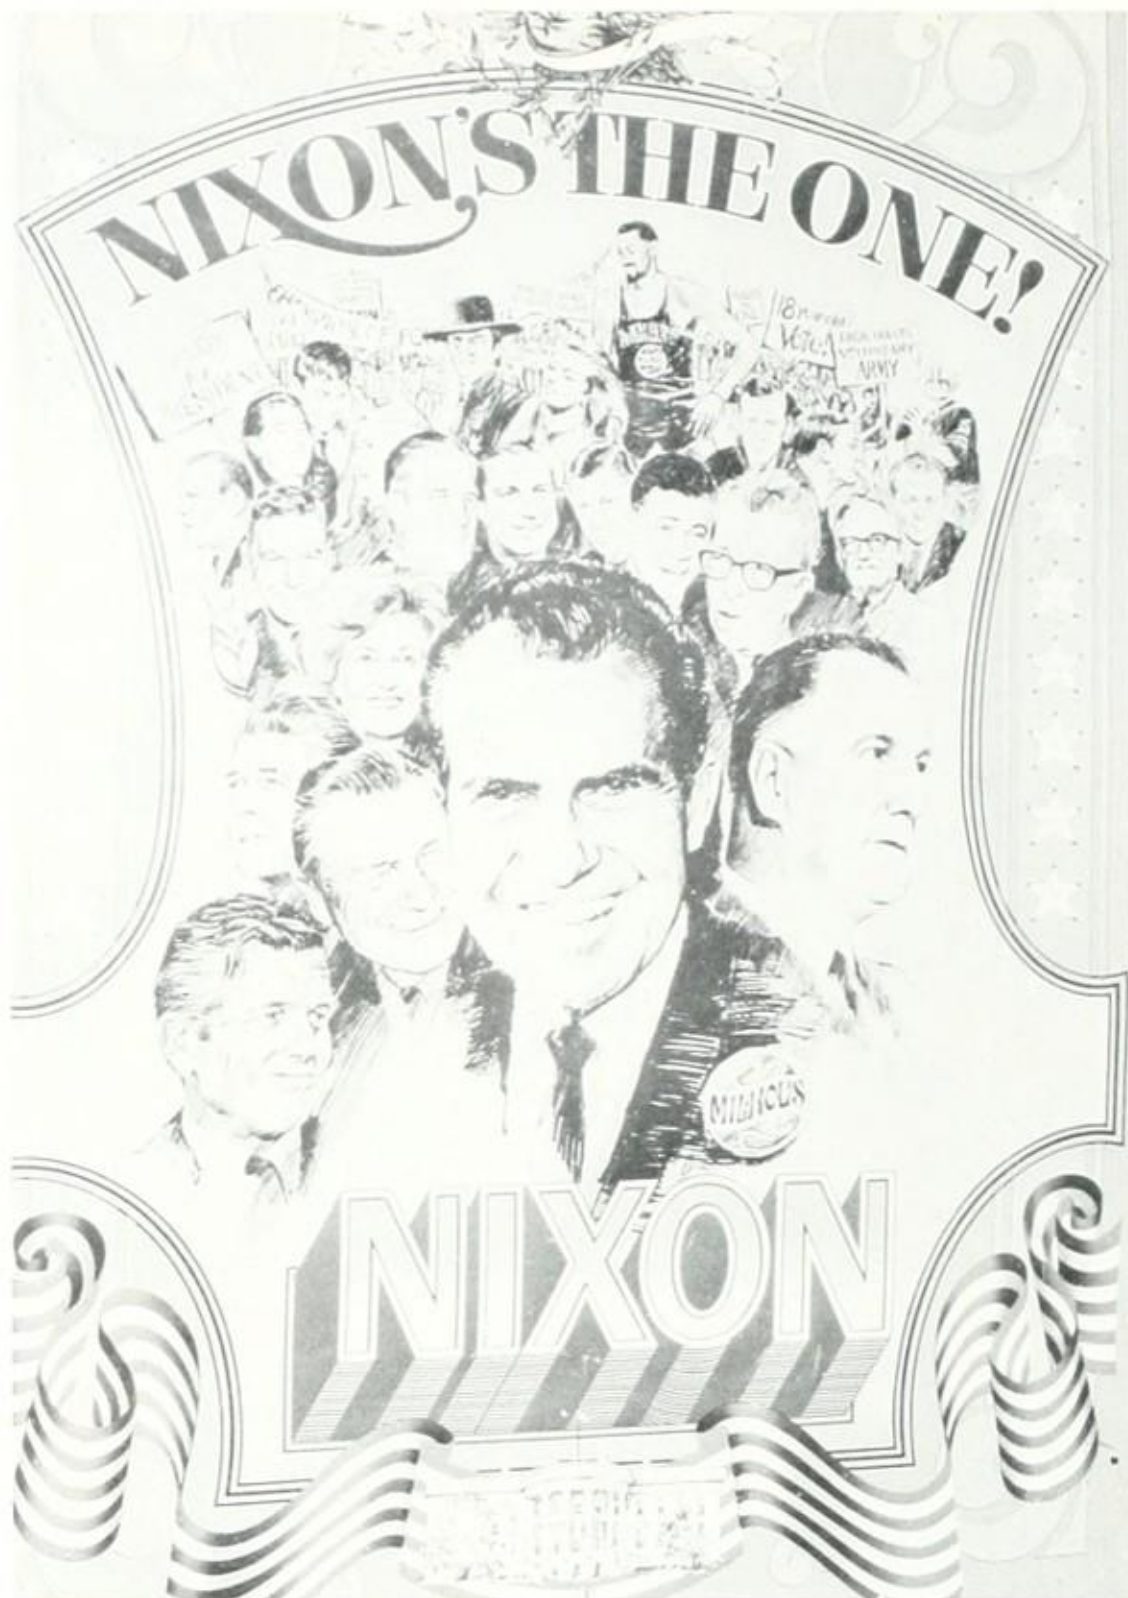

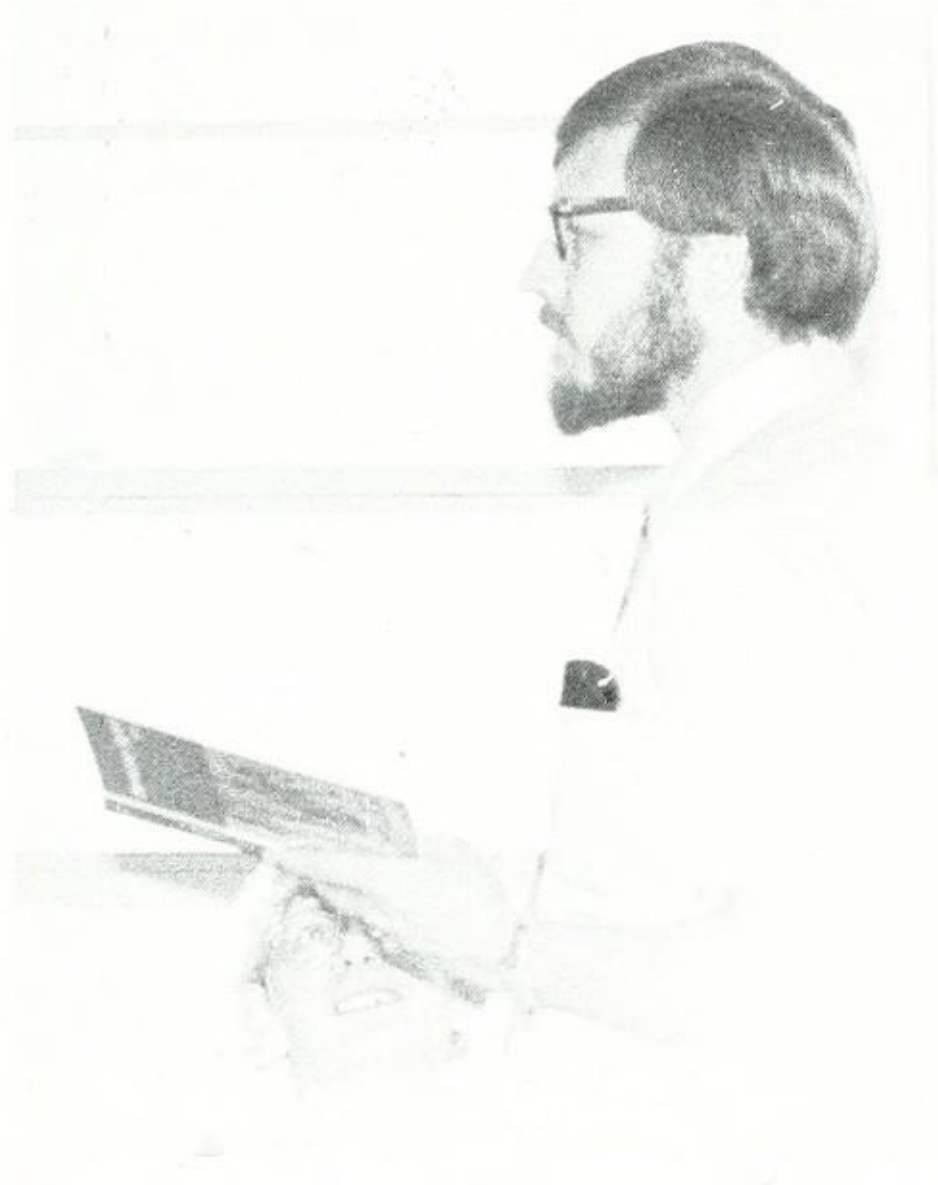

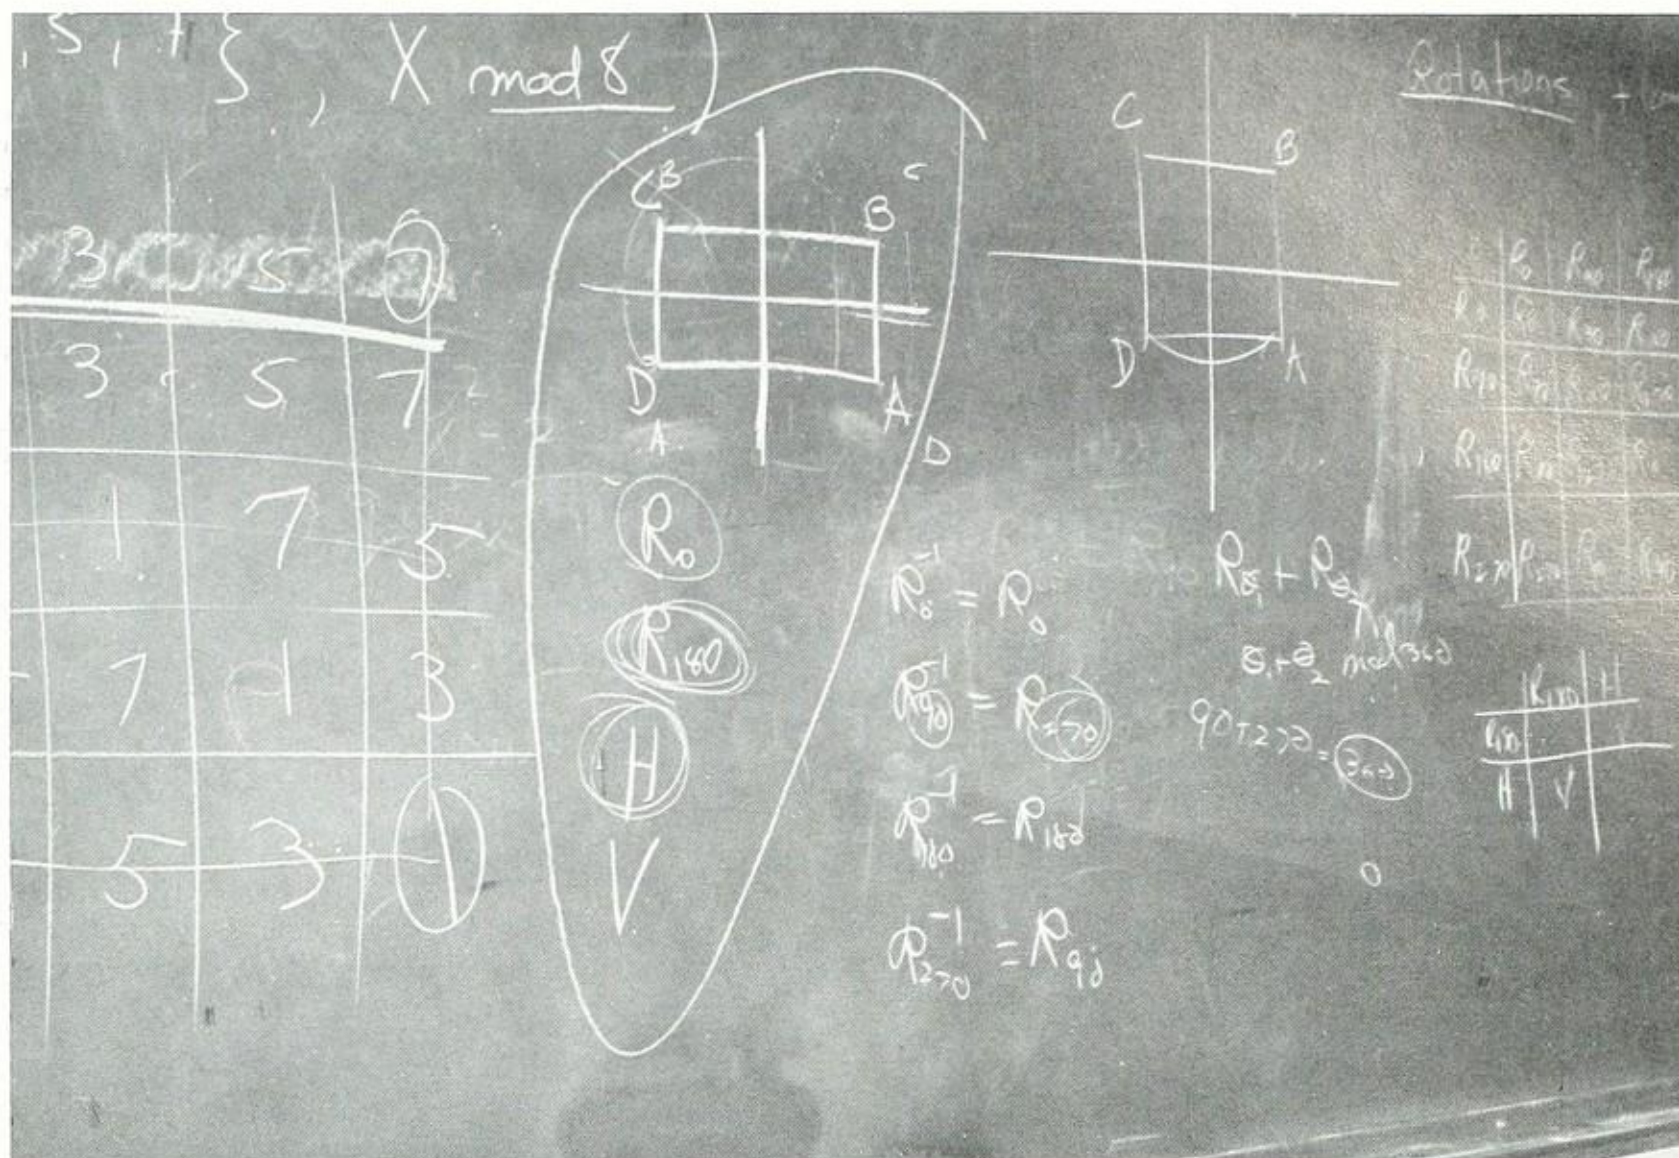

Social Studies is . . .

remembering the date of Napoleon's birth, taking notes until your fingers ache, filling your Davis cards, watching movies of World War II, memorizing all the presidents, typing your report until 2:00 A.M., knowing the difference between the Executive and Judicial branches of the government, and hoping you pass Mr. Van Hulzen's test!

Social studies can help each student realize the kind of country he belongs to by giving him facts of past occurrences.

Math is . . .

...drawing a right triangle with a compass and protractor; finding y if $x=6$; playing with the computer; doing Chapters 15 and 16 on your own; working in your practice book; and hoping you pass.

Math is also an essential part of our modern world. We get just a glimpse of the world of math in our courses at Valley.

Vocational Arts

Vocational Arts involve Home Economics, Physical Education, Business, and the library.

Home Ec. is...

sewing a straight seam, realizing boiling water is not very hard after all, and ripping out a zipper.

P.E. is...

trying to be a gymnast, taking showers, and working on the weight machine.

Business is...

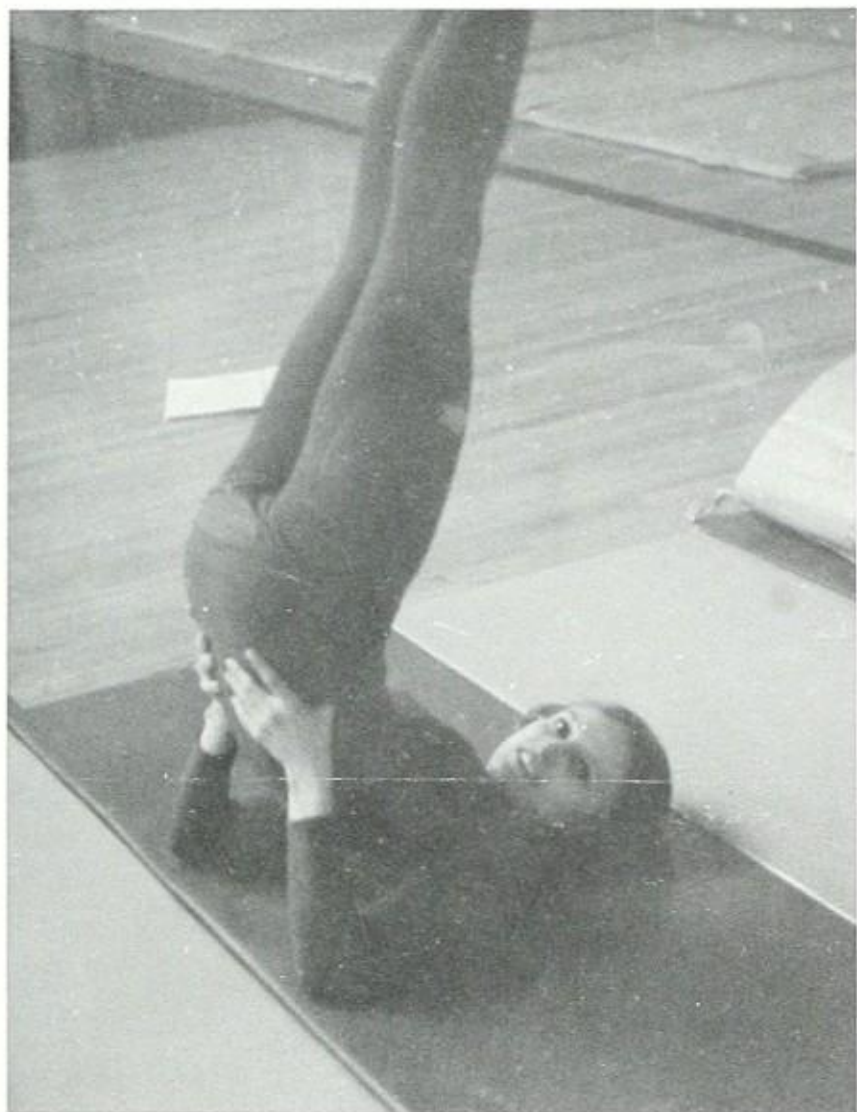

Hoping your books balance, taking a time test, and learning how to work an adding machine.

Library is...

books, books, and more books, paying a fine for overdue dues, and Miss Poundstone.

Each of these constitute a big part of the student's life for physical and mental development.

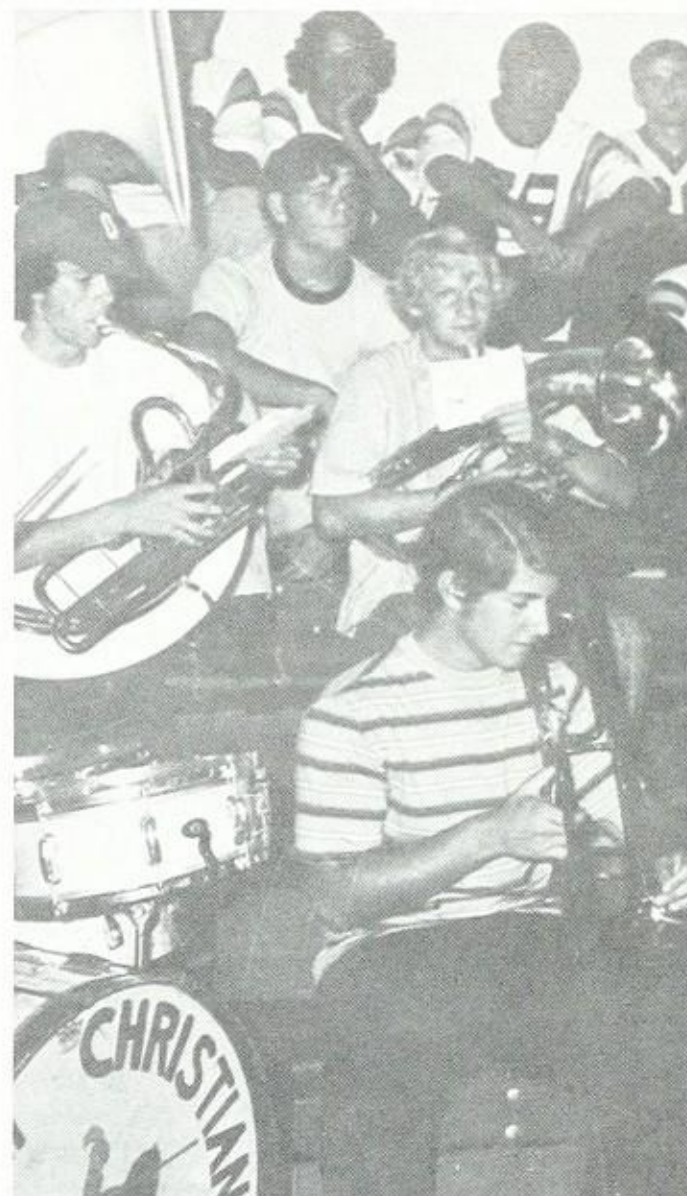

Choirs

The choirs at Valley consist of the Girl's Chorus, the Concert Choir, and the A Cappella choir. Each choir performed at the Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts. The A Cappella performed at several churches throughout the year and had its own concert in May. Under the fine directorship of Mr. Clousing, the choirs were enjoyed by both the participants and the listeners.

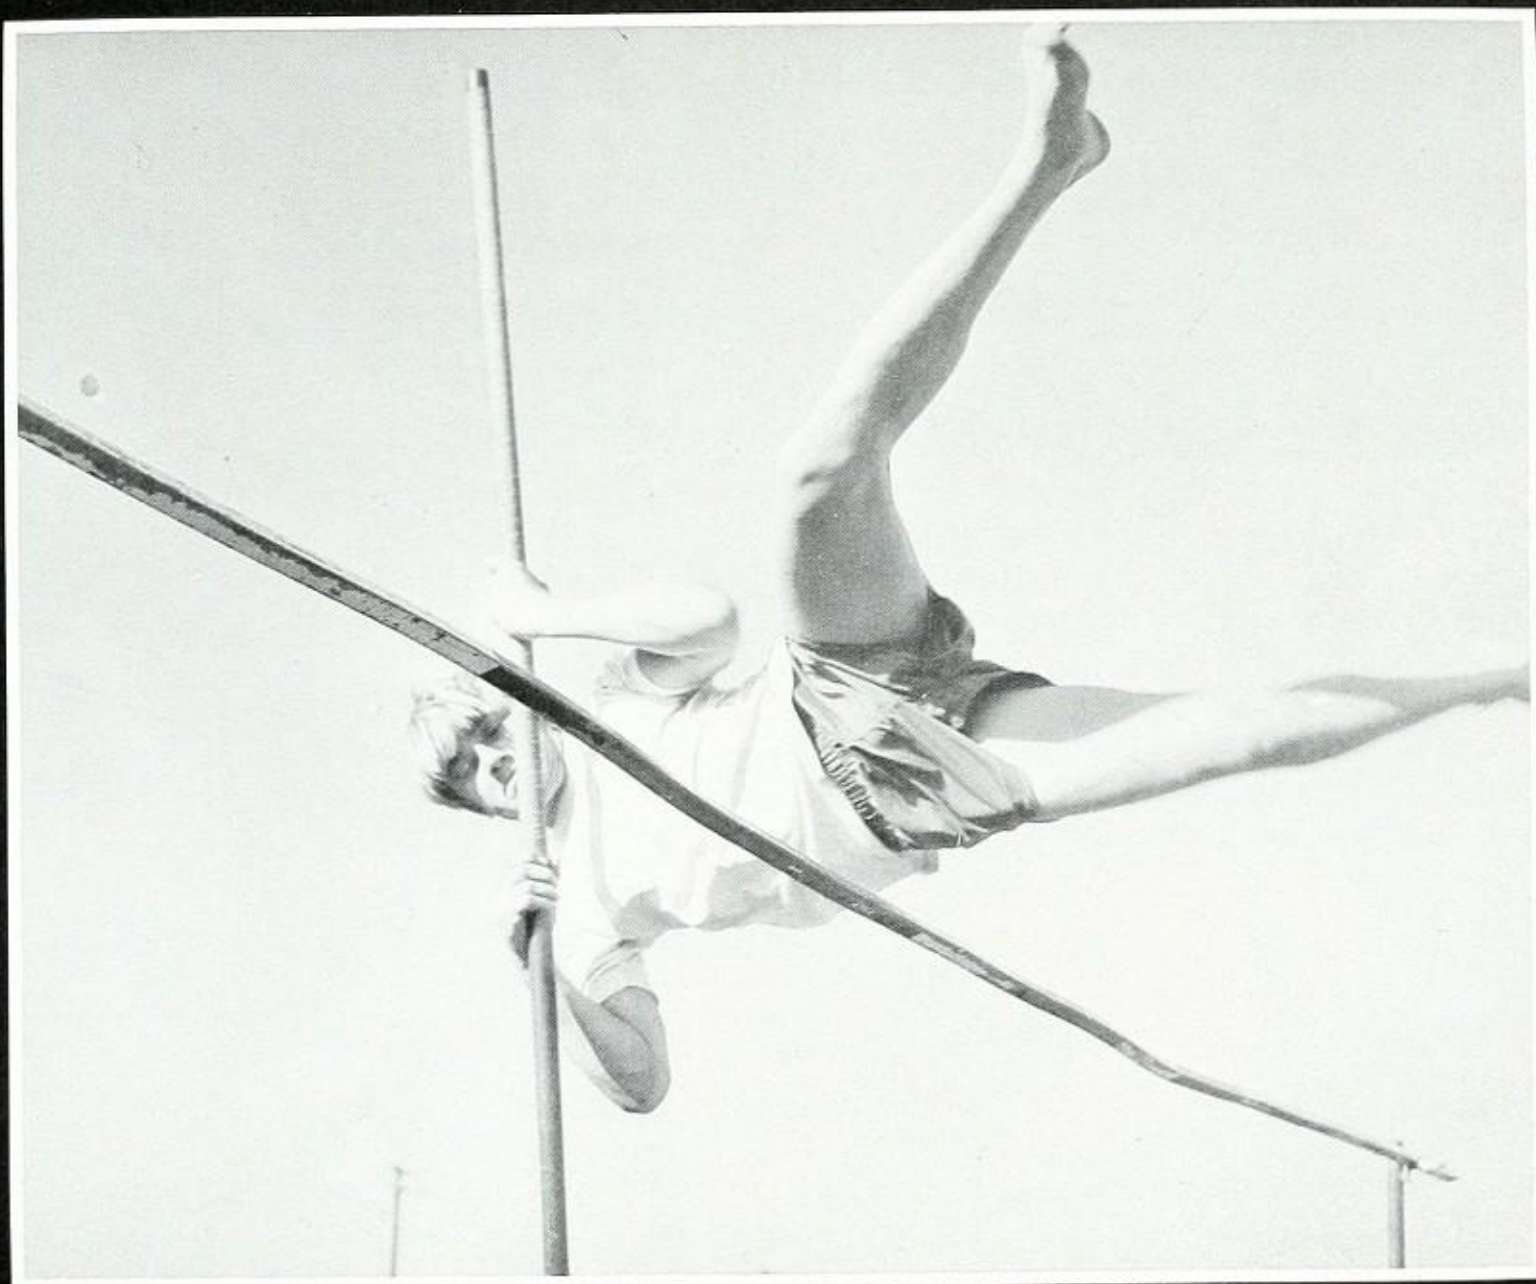

Band

The band is Mr. De Young's pride and joy, especially after they won the Sweepstakes trophy at the Santa Fe Springs Parade. Each member practices long and hard as he gets ready to either march in a parade or perform at a concert. This year, the band was invited to march in the Long Beach Band Review. Although they did not place, the experience provided a hope for better things to come.

SPORTS

In Him we live and move and have our being . . . even in athletic competition. For the Valley runner, kicker, catcher, or ball carrier, the statement stuck. And even through the tumultuous cries of victory or the silent despair of defeat the individual recognized the plain fact of his dependence on God . . . no matter what the score.

The agony of defeat

Running two miles in under ten minutes to many of us may seem impossible, but this is what cross country requires of a runner. This season's team started off with a win, but went down hill from then on, resulting in a 1-6 season. They just couldn't pull through the meets, often held in bad weather conditions like rain or sand blizzards.

They broke the jinx

After not winning one game for the past two years, this football season was quite an experience. Our team took league with a 5-0 record and an over-all record of 8-3. Late in the season, the league title was open only to two undefeated teams, Valley Christian and Lutheran. Finally the big match came - Valley vs. Lutheran - for the league title. Our team, battling it out in pouring rain on a muddy field, came out victorious. We later went on to play two rounds of the C.I.F. Playoffs. This year we had many league nominations, too. Les, Forrest, Arlin, Leroy, Harold and Cliff received league honors and Les and Forrest received C.I.F. honors.

Basketball

The game of basketball has developed a lot since early times. It started by shooting a ball in a basket on a wall. Today basketball is much more complicated and serves as a source of excitement for all. Although our team did not always overpower the opponents pointwise, our spirit and enthusiasm always shone through.

After playing into the third round of C.I.F. Play-offs, the team played a third-place consolation game. Les, Forrest, Roy, Hank and Pete received league honors, while Les and Forrest added C.I.F. honors for their achievements.

Golf

This year Valley added a new dimension of activities to its sports department--the sport of golf. The members competed against each other and against two schools. They did fairly well.

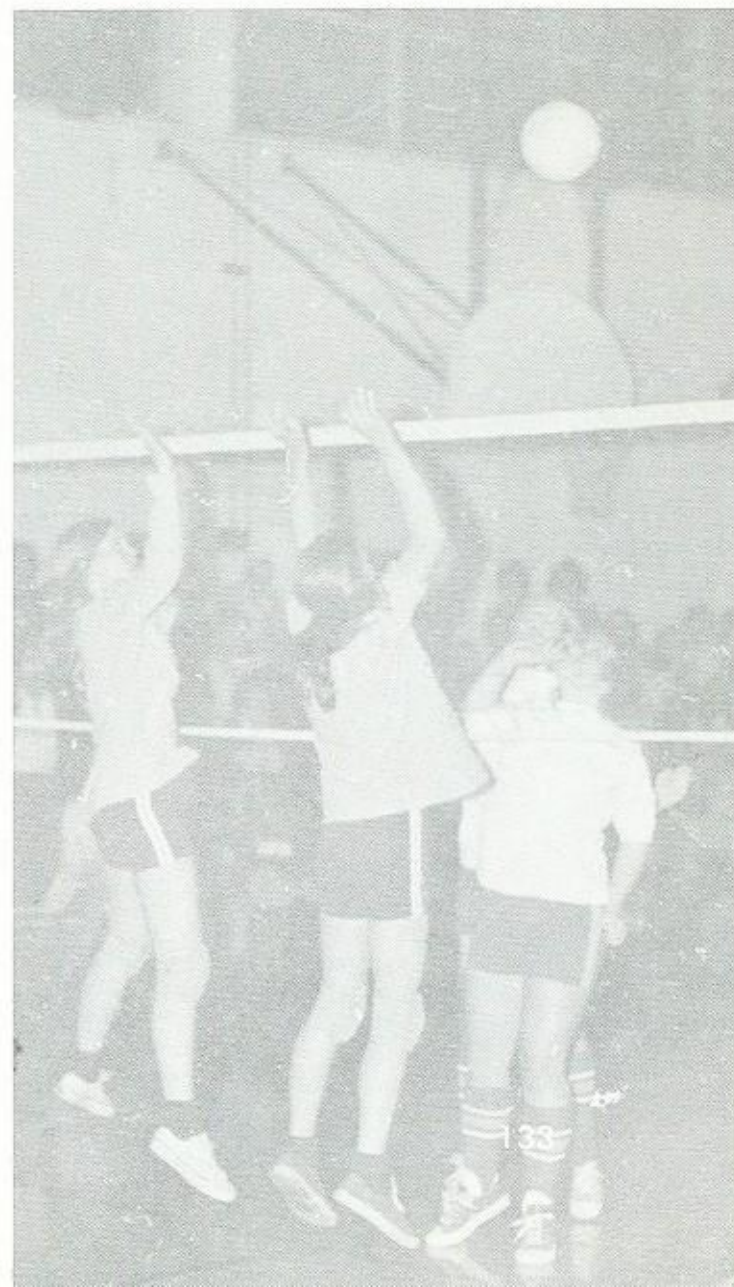

Girls' sports

This year's girls' sports were a complete success as all the varsity teams took first in their division. The J.V.'s and Freshmen also did very well. The girls' teams kept up the tradition of being a good and hard team to beat.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleading squad was full of surprises, as well as spirit. Every pep rally had something weird or crazy, like Jace eating bananas, Ellen being chased in a grass skirt by a lawn mower, or the Varsity basketball team being kissed by their mothers. They not only planned the pep rallies, made up cheers and smiled, but cheered our teams "ON TO VICTORY."

Flag girls

The flag girls this year were very different in many ways than those of other years. They not only performed admirably during half-time shows in football and basketball season, but also marched in parades behind the band. They showed their spirit by cheering right behind the cheerleaders during football season. Their ability to twirl their flags in many different ways was learned by going to summer camp. Their school pride and spirit shone through, whether marching in a parade or cheering at a game

UNDER-UNDERCLASSMEN

They must come up through the ranks and sometimes the going is tough. But their striving is not without reward.

Junior high faculty

You wonder if you will ever remember your locker combination, find your right class before the dreaded tardy bell rings, live through the exams, and get the right person to skate with you at the skating party. These are all problems that a junior high student must face, but they are made easier with the help of Mr. Sheets, Mrs. Nydam, and the faculty.

Eighth grade graduation

To graduate from eighth grade means growing up and maturing, getting a new outfit, nervousness and pride; but most of all, it means a big step into the world of high school.
